*Yesterday,
Friend or Foe?
We reflect on passing days,
Smiles or tears?
They become one as they return to our memories.*

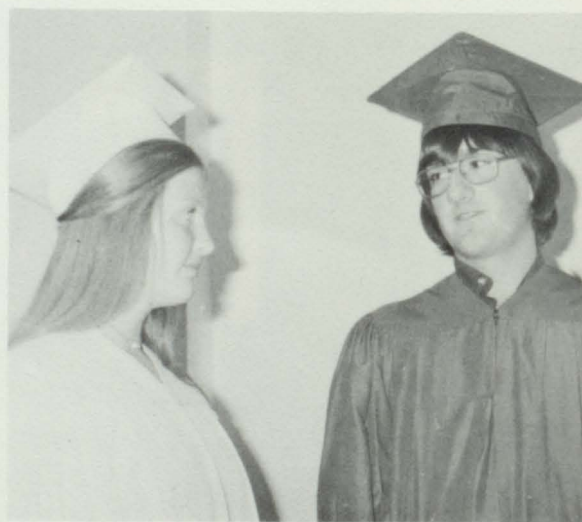

What yesterday instilled,
Today is built upon.
Friendship, loyalty, pride;
Our symbols, our happiness.

*Alone we struggled.
Together we conquered.
Success or defeat?
Both have molded our lives
Both are part of us.*

*Smiling through sadness,
We continue forward.
Crying with joy,
We linger in special moments.*

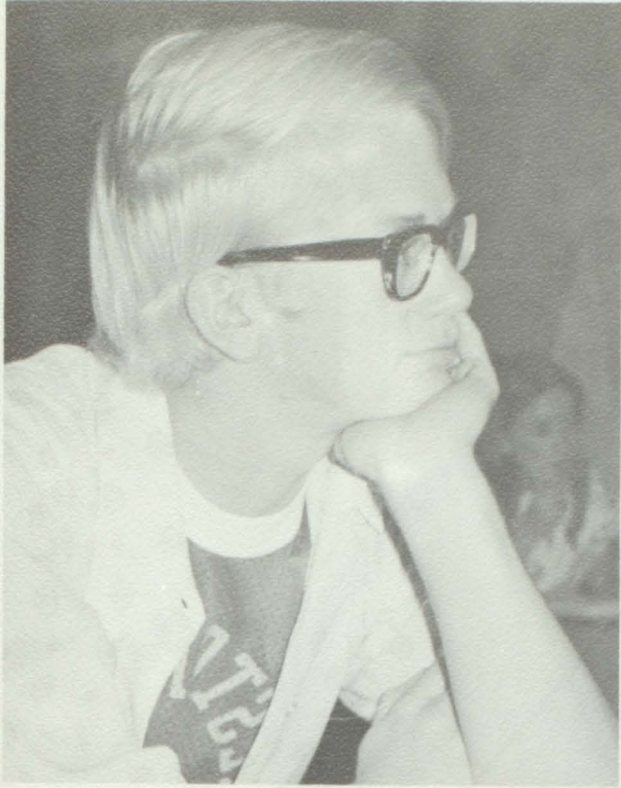

*Growing with our new conquests,
We draw from yesterday
Strength, smiles, love.
Yesterday,
Containing our beginning
Is ours to cherish.*

*Today,
Taking us by the hand
Is ours to sculpture.*

*Tomorrow,
Surrounded with mysteries
Is ours to dream of.*

Hardworking Administration and Faculty Assist Students

The Administration and Faculty are always hard working and very helpful. They are experts in their individual fields and always willing to lend a hand. We are grateful for the encouragement given by them which helped each student attain higher goals. The teachers put in many extra hours discussing curriculum and policies trying to give us the best education possible.

Words of Advice Given by New Principal

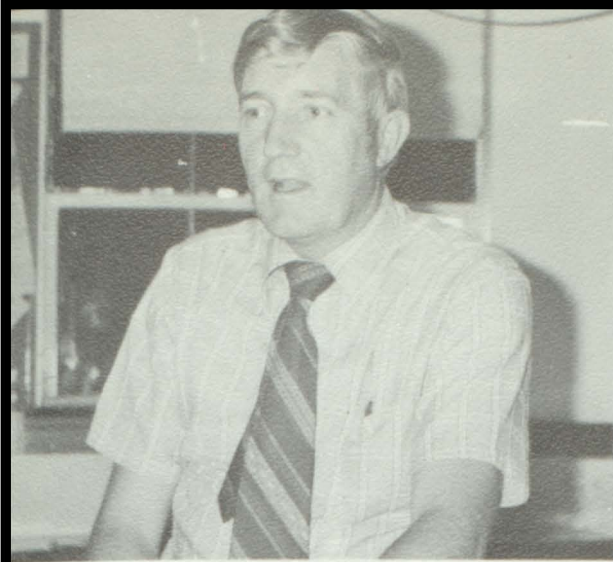

Socrates, the Greek philosopher, said that "The unexamined life is not worth living." During the past year many things at our school have been re-examined. Several questions have been asked. Questions such as what is the purpose of our school, what should we teach, how much freedom should students have, and many others have been asked. Answers to these questions will have to be developed in the immediate future. While the administration and staff have examined the purpose and goals of our educational institution, we hope that some examination has also taken place in the minds of students who attended Preston High School during the 1975-1976 school year.

There is no question that Preston High School has the potential to be the best high school in southeastern Idaho and northwestern Utah. The community, parents, and students are the best that can be found anywhere. Our size makes it possible to develop a good academic and extra-curricular program while maintaining a friendly relationship between students and staff. If we are not already the best school in the region, this year has brought us closer to the attainment of that goal.

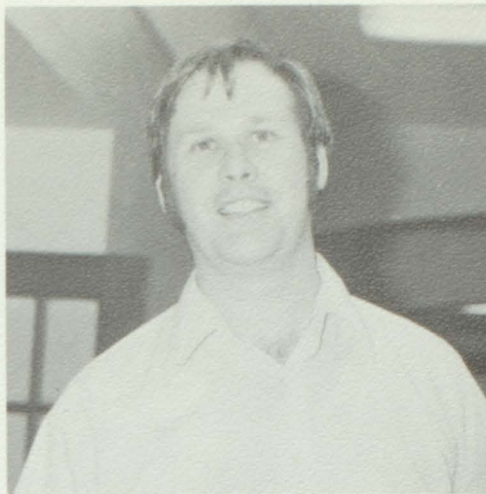

As our graduates leave our institution and as we prepare for future years at Preston High School, let us remember that the "unexamined life" is not worth living and that the unexamined school is probably not worth existing.

Gratefulness Shown by Executive Council

With the goal in mind of helping the students of Preston High through the 1975-76 school year, we have attempted to bring some leadership, enthusiasm, and concern for student problems into the executive leadership positions. We hope the students of Preston High have taken advantage of the opportunities offered by the school. We are grateful for the opportunity to serve you, the students of Preston High.

ORGANIZATIONS

Unity Is Spread By Band

The band has generated a lot of spirit this year by playing at all the home games. The band's efforts were really appreciated by the studentbody. Some of the band members attended music clinic at Grace in November. To raise money they sold Preston High frisbies.

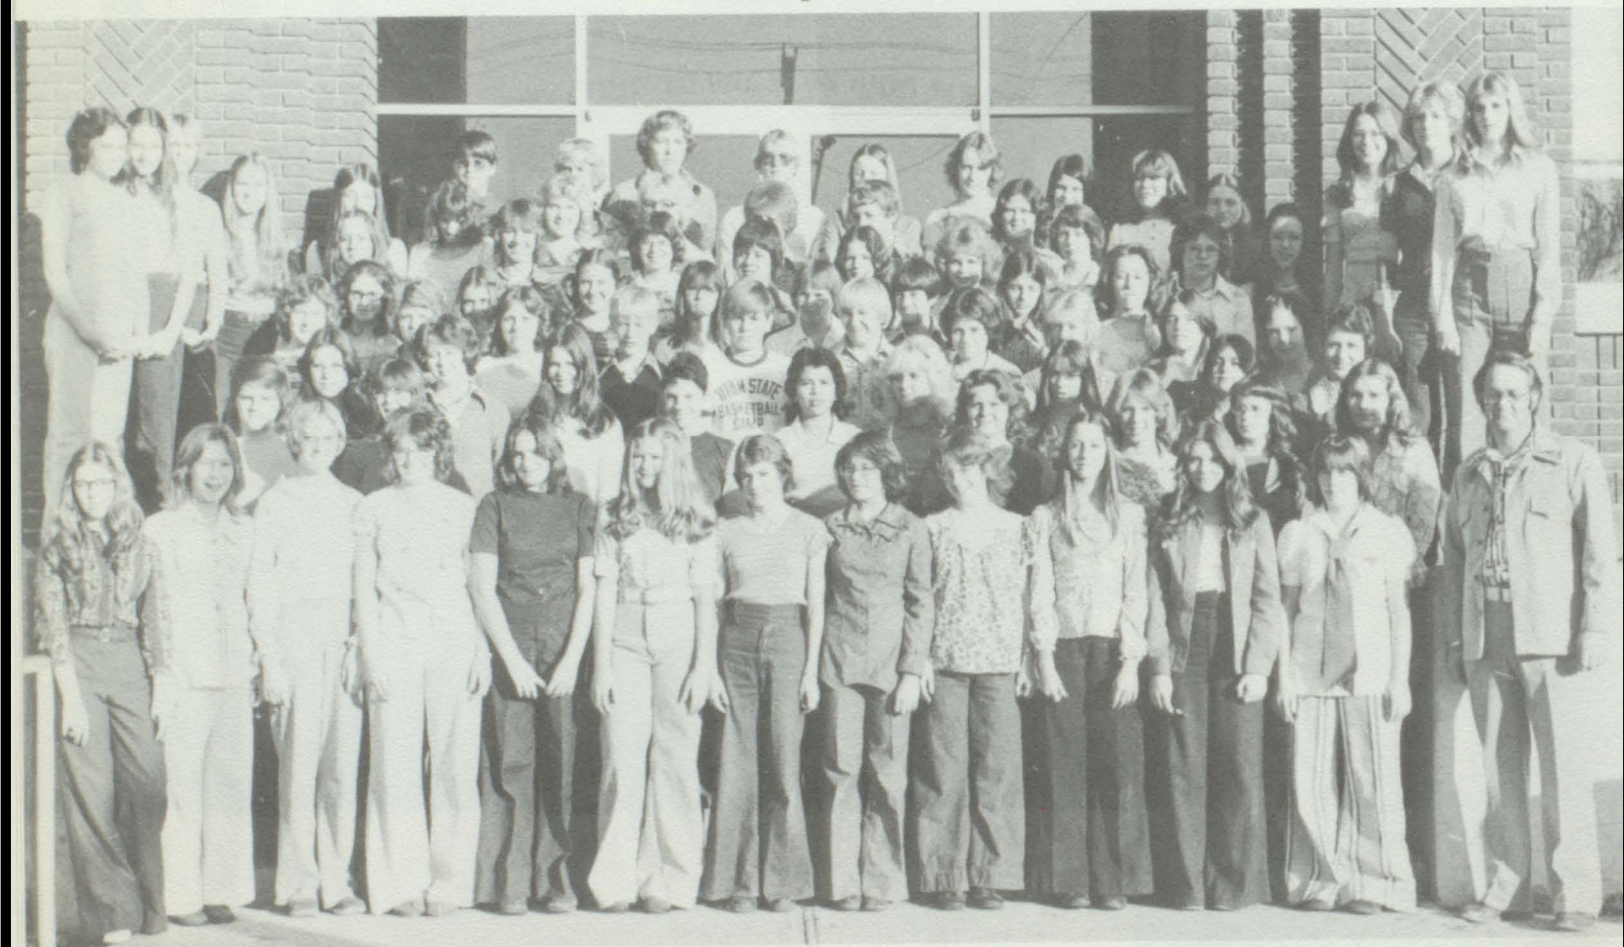

There is also a jazz band this year. The members devote much of their time to after-school practices. They held one concert and participated with the band in another. The band president was Randy Johnson.

Singing Their Way To San Francisco, The Choir Learned Of The Arts

This year the choir has been active in many of the activities of the school. Their efforts have been shown through the excellent concerts and programs they have presented. In order to tour San Francisco in November, the members sold Preston Citizen subscriptions.

In March, a well rehearsed musical, The King and I, was performed for the public as well as the studentbody. Acting as officers were: Arnel Baird, President; Denise Gunnell, Vice-President; and Tammy Foster, Secretary. The result of much hard work and early morning practices is Preston's "Free Breeze." They gave many programs to special groups and were always ready with a smile. Kelly Nash and Teri Tanner presided as Co-Presidents.

"And then after that, he . . ."

Fun And Work Are Required Of All German Club Members

Have you ever thought about learning a foreign language? The members of the German Club found out that it is not as easy as it sounds. But all the work is made bearable by the fun activities that the German Club has. They planned an activity every month and went as a group. They went to the Language Fair at ISU where the members competed for scholarships.

One of the activities was the Christmas Festival where the school and the public were invited. It was a big success, as was most everything, which was planned by this enthusiastic group. Gordon Coulson was this year's president; Diane Drury, vice-president; LaRae Hambly, secretary; and Kallin Keller, reporter.

Learning A New Language Is A Challenge For Spanish Club Members

The Spanish Club members worked hard to improve their knowledge of the Spanish language and culture. Some of this was learned through parties and activities. They sponsored a float for the Homecoming parade. A day was planned to go to the Oakwood to teach the students. A Christmas party was held and a pinata was broken. They also held a white elephant sale at the Christmas Festival. Officers were Irene Rodriguez, president; Jackie Christensen, vice-president; and Vicki Carter, secretary.

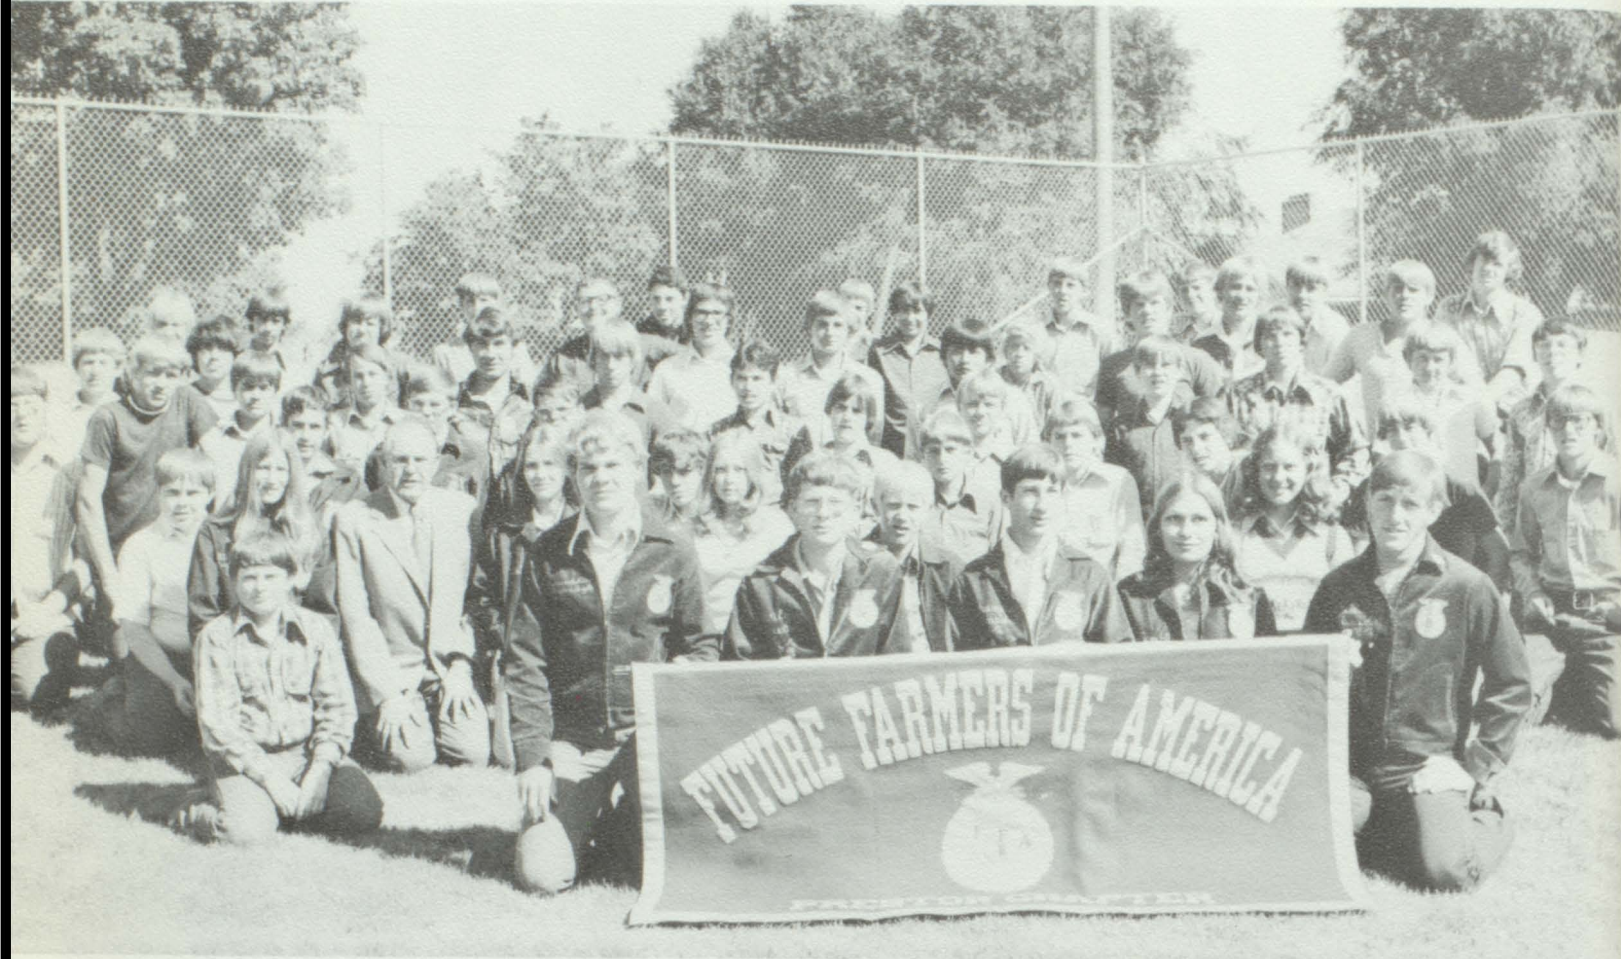

Spanish Club parties can be fun.

A Successful Farmer Is A Well Trained F.F.A. Member

This year, as a bicentennial project, the F.F.A. built and erected a flagpole for the Nursing Home. This activity rated a picture and article in the National Future Farmer Magazine. The F.F.A. is active in contest work. Each June they send a team to Moscow for the summer contests.

This year the theme for the Harvest Ball was "Sunshine." It was an outstanding dance, even though the band was unable to come because of a snow storm. Tammie Foster was chosen as the F.F.A. sweetheart. Tom Smith was this year's president.

Several members of the F.F.A. were contest winners.

"That's not what Ewl Gibbons says."

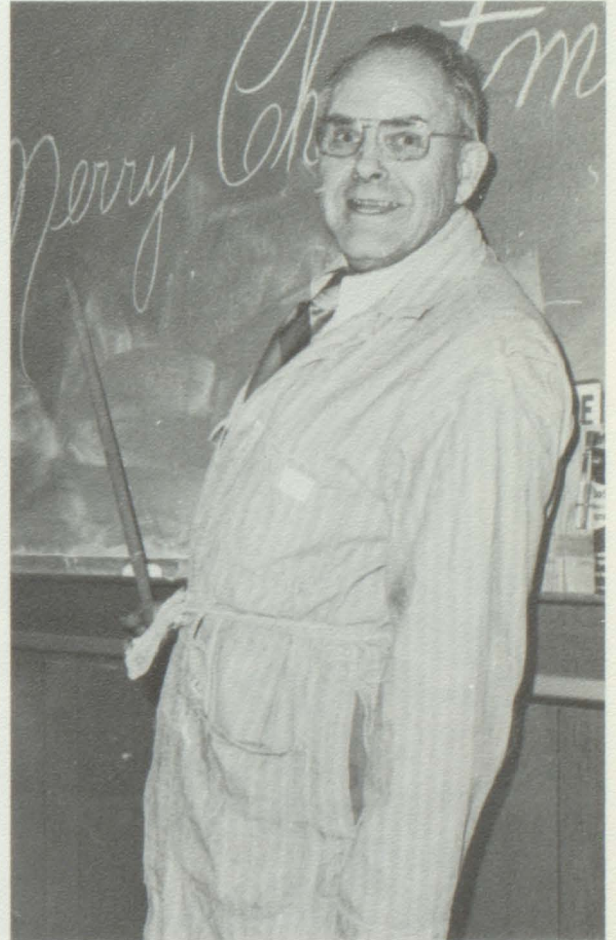

The President, Tom Smith, crowns Tammy Foster, the Harvest Ball Sweetheart.

Homemaking Skills Were Perfected Through The F.H.A. Department

The purpose of the F.H.A. is to teach basic skills needed to be a good homemaker. District Convention was held in Pocatello. The convention featured a speaker, a movie, a fashion show, and a banquet. Preston took first place in the scrapbook judging. District officers were elected at the state convention, which was held in Twin Falls.

The annual Buddy Dance was sponsored by the F.H.A. The theme for the dance was "Dance With Me." The music was provided by KRSP. This year's president was Lynnette Maughan.

New Uniforms Add Spirit To The Pep Club

Enthusiastically cheering our teams to victory were our faithful Pep Club. Wherever we needed spirit and support they were there to cheer. They received many compliments for the hard work they undertook. They really looked full of spirit wearing their new royal blue sweaters and white pants.

This year the Pep Club decorated lockers for the football players during Homecoming Week and for the basketball players during district play. They sponsored 50's day and a dance during the year. Mrs. Cattani was the advisor and the officers were: Wendy Panter, President; Stacie Rasmussen, Vice-President; and Jill Doney, Secretary.

"Fight! Fight! Fight!"

Debbie yells for the Seniors.

Theatrical Skills Are Learned In The Drama Club

The Preston High School Drama Club was organized this year to give an opportunity for all students to participate in and go to various drama events.

The Community Birthday Calendar was one fund-raising project that many members participated in, especially for funds to go to the Idaho Theatre Arts Festival at Boise State. Many students also participated in the Fifth District Drama Festival at Soda Springs. Other activities included plays at USU and ISU and the popular noon hour "Pot-luck" parties began by the old Thespian Club. This year's president was LaMar Barrington.

Athletic Skills And Techniques Have Been Displayed By The Lettermen's Club

Anyone can spot a Letterman walking down the hall wearing his jacket or sweater; for these boys are very unique. A Letterman is one of PHS's pride and joy in everything he represents the school in.

This year the Lettermen's Club has been busy making money to buy athletic equipment. Their biggest selling project was at Christmas time when they sold Christmas candles. Also, they ran the Weenie Wagon at football games and sold pop at basketball games.

Something new that the club did this year was to contribute $50 to each sport. At the end of the year they had their traditional Lettermen Club Banquet. The officers presiding were: Jim Sessions, President; Kyle Winward, Secretary; and Brad Smith, Sergeant at Arms.

Preparing For The District Rodeo was the Goal Of The Rodeo Club

The horsemanship skills have been improved by many when they joined and participated in the activities of the Rodeo Club this year.

They attended district meetings in Pocatello each month during the winter and the meetings were exciting and also encouraging for the members who went. Their meetings and activities during the winter were preparations for the area practice Rodeo and the District Rodeo held in the spring. Debbie Burton was this year's president; Karen Barnes, vice-president; Julie Lowe, secretary; and Jani Lee Carter, activity director.

Debbie and Julie are preparing for a District Rodeo meeting.

For Thrills and Spills, Watch the Ski Club

Down the slopes can be seen any one of our Ski Club members. They planned a big trip to Salt Lake this year. They have also taken several trips to Beaver Mountain. The officers are Cathy Johnson, President; Todd Phillips, Vice President; Denise Woodworth, Secretary-Treasurer.

Spirit and Unity Were Added by Cheerleaders

No school would have very much spirit and pride without the support of their cheerleaders and ours were priceless! They worked very hard to support all of our teams.

The previous summer they attended a cheerleader's clinic at Weber College and received top awards. During the fall they attended a tumbling and cheerleading class at Utah State University.

Because of all their hard work and efforts, they have increased the quality and pride of our school.

Striving for Perfection are the Phi-Dels

Being to practice at 7:00 a.m. during the summer paid off for the Phi-Dels when they took first place at the Fourth of July Parade in Lewiston. Participating in many other parades helped them to work together as a corps. The Phi-Dels have had to work extra hard this year because they had 16 new members. The football and basketball half times were sparked with enthusiasm when the Phi-Dels performed. They also competed in the Mini-Dome contest and placed fourth out of eleven drill teams. The studentbody appreciated the efforts of the Phi-Dels.

The Quiver Staff Never Has a Dull Moment

The object of the Quiver is to record all the events and memories that occurred during this past school year. As members of the yearbook staff, we hope that this book will bring good memories of the past, great year. As you look through its pages you will be able to recall the members of each class, the clubs we joined to get our picture taken, the activities we participated in, and the accomplishments which we made throughout the year.

We would like to extend a special thanks to those who made the yearbook possible; our patient advisor, Mr. Baxter, and especially the studentbody, which made everything happen.

Come to the party.

One happy family.

War Cry Staff Learns Journalism Skills

Practicing their journalism skills are the members of the War Cry staff. The students in the journalism class wrote articles and one newspaper was published a month. Besides the newspaper, a special literary magazine consisting of stories and poetry called Reflections was published.

This year's Powderpuff football game was sponsored by the War Cry to raise funds for their newspaper. Debbie Campbell was this year's Editor-in-Chief and Liz McGrew was the advisor.

The Rifle Club Shot Their Way to Good Marksmanship

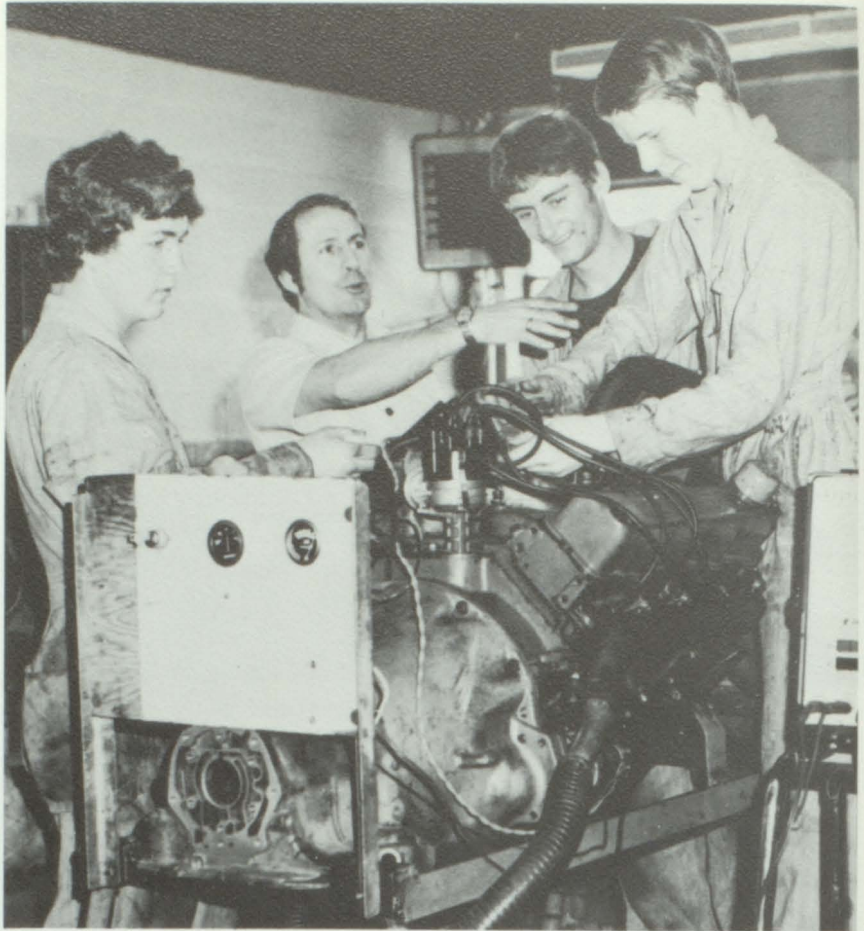

Each year the Rifle Club members strive to improve their marksmanship by practicing at least once a week after school. This year a meet with Logan was planned; therefore, the members put in extra hours of target practice. The advisor, Mr. Biggs, put in many hours of hard work in making the club a success.

VICA Members Endeavor to Learn a Trade

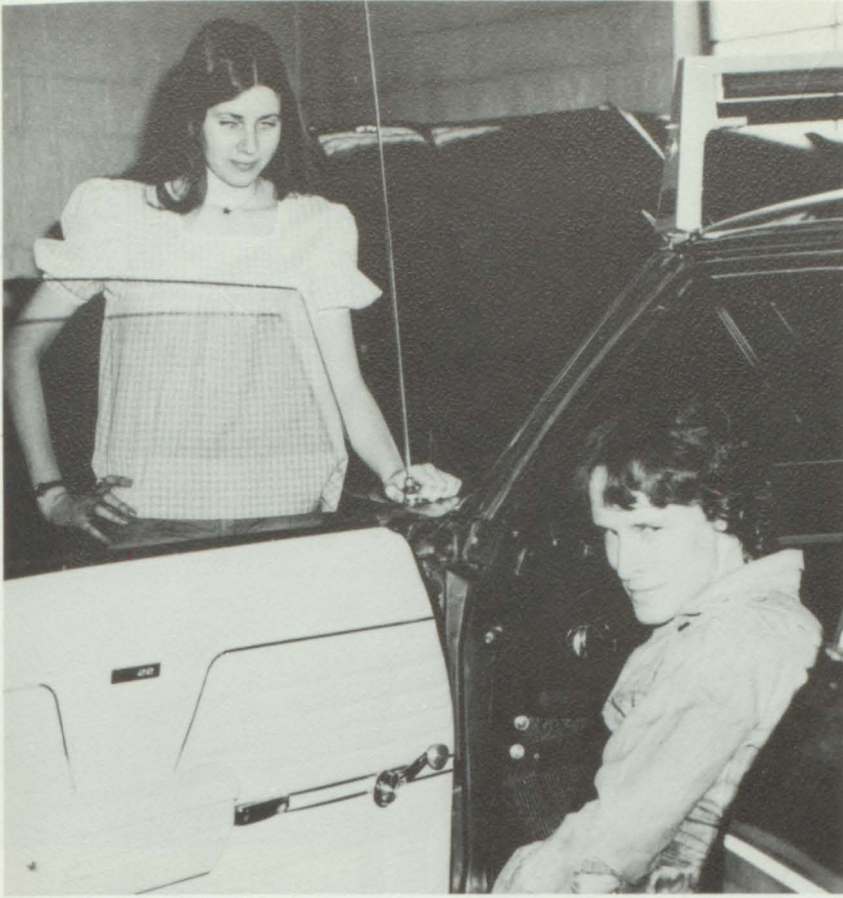

This year the Vica Club has been one of the most active clubs in the school. Vica stands for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. Every year they attend trouble shooting contests and place very high in district, state, and nationals. They kept very busy making money and sponsoring activities. This year they sponsored the Valentines dance which was a big success. This year Bart Wilcox presided as president.

ACTIVITIES

Students Enjoyed Getting Muddy

The traditional get acquainted party this year was a Mud Bowl. Everyone had their chance to dig into the gushy mud and get dirty to the bone. This was fun for everyone and no one quite looked the same the next day. A dance was sponsored by the Executive Council after everyone had a chance to wash.

"Oh, it's so cold!"

Mud King and Queen, Stewart and Shawna.

Mud, Mud, Mud!

Homecoming Week Was Filled With Enthusiasm and Spirit

Homecoming, the biggest event of the year, was filled with tremendous Preston High spirit. The Homecoming Queen, Debbie Haworth, reigned over the festivities with her attendants Janis Griffin and Christie Nielson. Students decorated the halls with crepe paper, posters, and paint to help generate spirit. The Juniors won the spirit award by showing their pep and enthusiasm throughout the week. The senior float took first place in the Homecoming parade. Highlighting the week was the game with Marsh Valley and the Lettermen's Dance.

Students Look Into The Past On '50's Day

Taking a look at the past were the students of Preston High on '50's day. Most everyone participated and the girls wore bobby socks with mid-calf skirts while the guys had their hair slicked back trying to be like "Elvis." The Pep Club sponsored a Rock and Roll dance during the afternoon. The students who didn't go to the dance watched an Elvis Presley movie. Everyone enjoyed themselves and this activity was a big success.

Seniors Win The Annual Powder Puff Football Game

This year's powder puff football game was sponsored by the journalism class to raise money for the publication of the War Cry. The seniors defeated the juniors 48-6. The senior coach was Mr. Miles. Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Giles were the juniors' coaches. Half time entertainment was provided by the Squawettes.

Talents Are Exchanged With Other Schools

The school's best talent and entertainment were presented through the exchange assembly. The assembly traveled to five different schools in the district. The students involved came to school early to practice for three weeks before their first performance. All of the other schools enjoyed our talent.

Performance Of "The King And I" Went Over Well

What happened to all our blonde-haired fair-skinned students? They turned Siamese! The musical this year, "The King and I" was a very well done production. It told the story of an English woman teaching school in the palace of the King of Siam. The bright costumes that glittered and shone added much to the brilliance of the play.

Lack of snow does not stop Snow Carnival

Despite the lack of snow, this year's snow carnival took place as usual. On March 3, school was dismissed an hour early, in order to give students more time to work on their entries. The sculptures were judged at 5:30 by local businessmen and the executive council. Winners were announced at a pep assembly the next day. First place went to Blair Gregorson; second place, Junior class; and third place, Senior class.

First place - BSA 500's singles.

Second Place - Juniors.

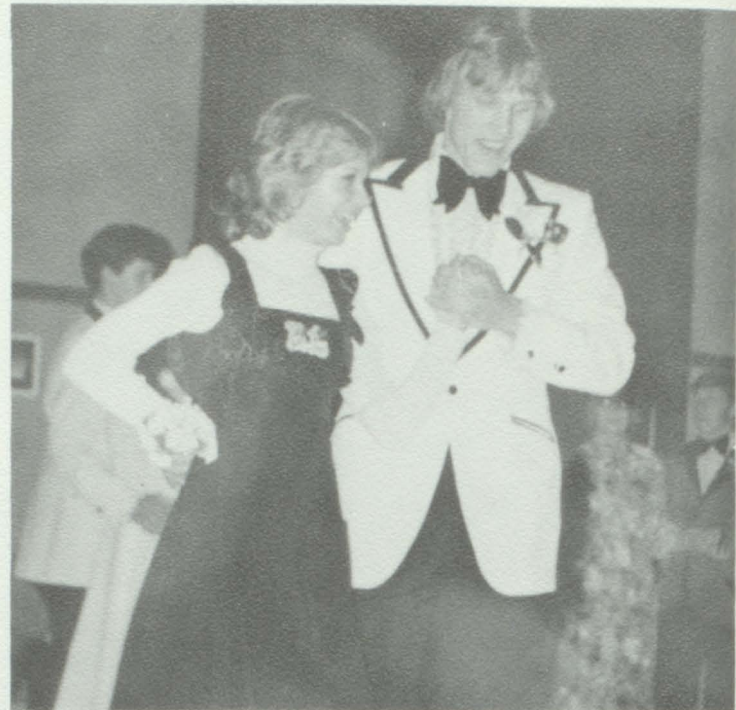

Third Place - Seniors.

One Of The Best Formal Dances Was The Senior Ball

"Sometimes, not often enough, we reflect upon the good things." These were the words to the theme of the Senior Ball. Phoenix was the band that provided the music for the evening. At intermission a beautiful floor show waltz to the theme song was presented by the Senior class members. "Sometimes," the theme, was sung by Sweet Eve and royalty was announced. The King and Queen reigning over the ball were Debbie Campbell and Jay Heusser. Attendants were Lynette Maughan, Denise Gunnell, Brad Smith and David Warburton.

Juniors sponsor their first formal dance

One of the most memorable dances of the year was the Junior Prom. The Theme from Mahogany was chosen as the theme for the dance. The Juniors spent many weeks of preparation and several hours of hard work to decorate for the Prom. During the floor show, the theme song was sung and the royalty was announced. King and Queen for the Junior Prom were Dave Green and Kaye Beckstead. Attendants were Mike Oliverson, Denise Woodworth, Doug Porter, and Jacki Greaves.

Phi-Dels Sponsored The Christmas Dance

"Winter Wonderland" was an appropriate theme for the Christmas Dance this year. The Phi-Dels sponsored the dance and a lot of time and effort was put forth to make it a big success. For the floor show, the Phi-Dels did a dance routine followed by six of the members singing the theme song.

Preceding the Christmas Dance was an assembly put on by the Phi-Dels. Santa came and gave out gifts and let anyone sit on his lap that wanted to. The Phi-Dels also performed several routines at the assembly.

King and Queen for the dance were Travis Allen and Cindy Petterborg. First and second attendants were Todd Lewis and Diane Drury, also Jeff Hollingsworth and Nancy Ricks.

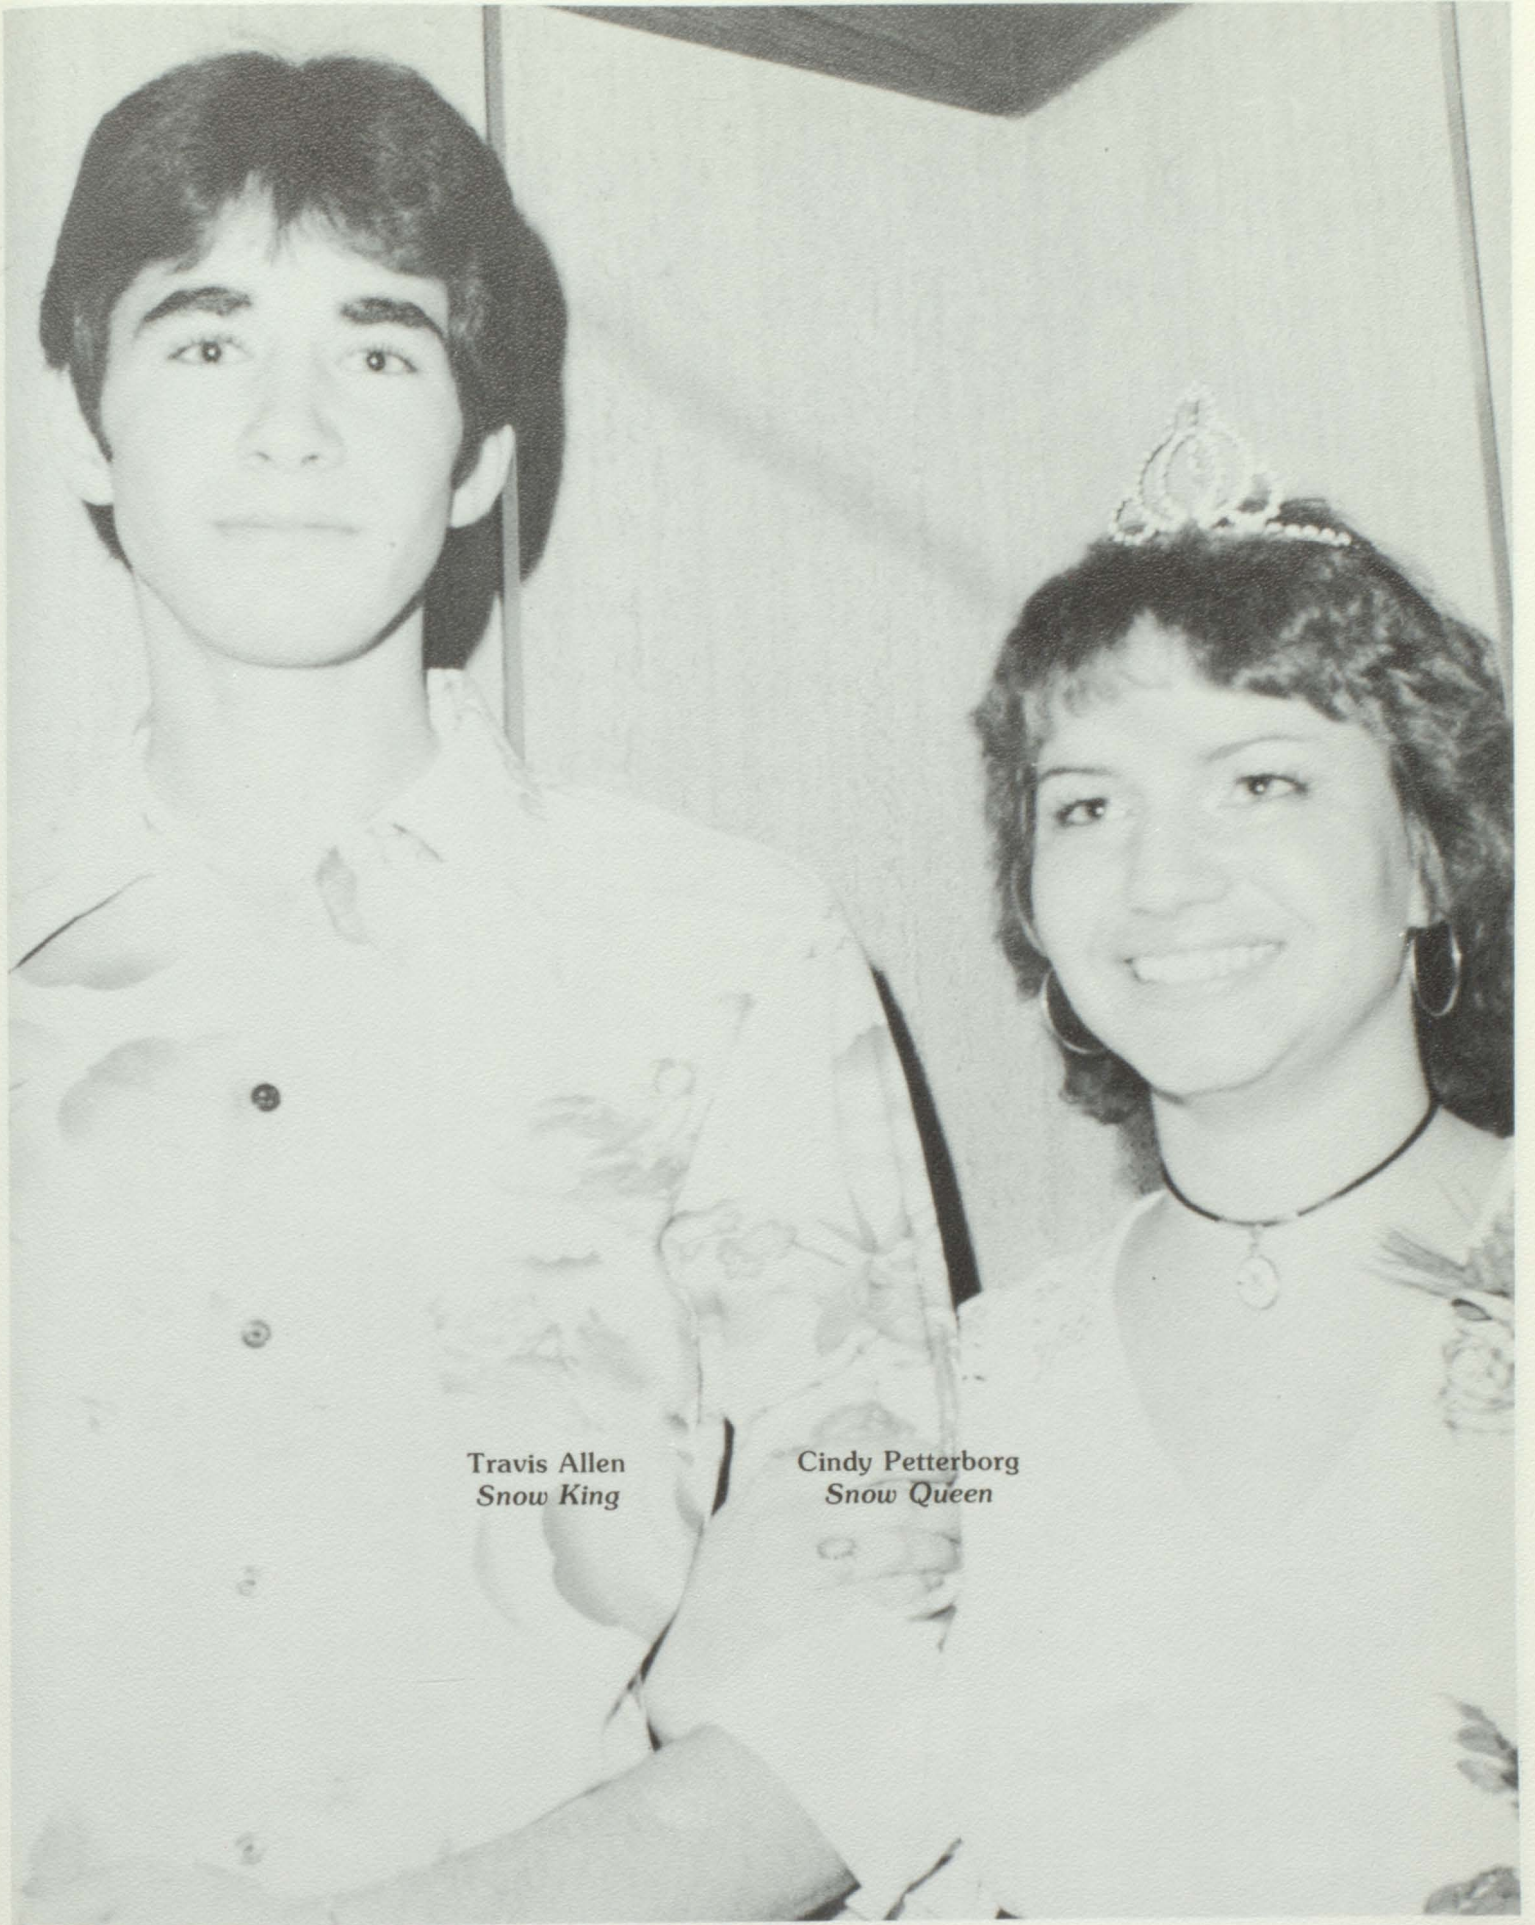

Graduates come back to get the Christmas spirit.
