As the Graduating class of '07, we'd like to honor and remember our fellow classmate and friend, Sabrena Smart.

"I remember one day I ran in to her parent's Suburban. Beaner was so mad, I was trying to keep her calm, but you know Beaner." -Jake Visser

"Sabrena had the uncanny ability to always be happy and carry a constant smile. Sometimes she would start laughing at Mrs. Moser's lessons about 'sick stuff' in Health." -Kolby Talbot

"She had a smile for everyone; how big and pretty it was. She always knew if I was having a rough day. I don't know how, but she always did." -Michael Kelley

"What sticks out in my mind the most is her neverending smile, her willingness to be a friend. Oh, and don't forget about her always claiming to have the biggest muscles." -Jeannie Hollingsworth

"She always made me feel so welcome." -Amy Wells

"I remember when she would always stand in her flamingo pose." -Lindsay Christensen

"I loved Sabrena's beautiful piano hands. I will never forget her purple Jansport bookbag; she packed it around like a camel. Sabrena had a way of being everybody's favorite. It took no time at all to fall in love with that flamingo-standing brunette." -Cami Cole

"When the music was on, it was always good to have Sabrena around. If we were in the car and a song came on she liked, we'd have to stop talking and turn it up. It was always fun to watch her dance; she was such a good sport. Whether it was counting the dots on Mrs. B's ceiling, writing on the desks in Spanish with washable markers, or throwing M&M's at a target, she always found stuff to entertain us." -Chelsey Porter

"Every time someone said or did something Sabrena didn't understand, she would glance over and give them the look like 'what is he thinking?' I will never forget that look!" -Nick Coats

"I've got a million memories. There are so many things that remind me of her. I love her. She has touched my life and set such a good example." -Bridget Checketts

What will you always remember about the time you've spent in Belgium?

"The great friends I've made, the families I've lived with, and how difficult school is here."

What is the most embarrassing thing that happened to you while you've been there?

"I went to a discotech with the senior class of my school. There were over 1,200 people there. While we were dancing, "Greased Lightning" came on and an American, an Australian, and I [danced] like John Travolta in front of everyone. It was great!"

What were you looking forward to when you decided to go to Belgium?

"I was looking forward to experiencing a new culture and seeing Europe."

What have you learned about yourself?

"That no matter how far away I get from tiny Preston, I always tend to want to go back!"
