WINNING YEAR!

ACTIVITIES

FOOTLOOSE

Dances provide an important break to the long months of school, and are an important part of the social atmosphere. This years dances included the Buddy Dance, Homecoming Dance, Generic Dance, Ski Dance, MORP Dance, Sweetheart Dance, Unity Ball, Inaugural Ball and Senior Dance. Several of the traditional formal dances were changed to stag dances by the various clubs who sponsored them, furnishing a pleasant change of pace. The students who participated enjoyed the variety throughout the year.

NO SUBSTITUTE

Characterizing this year's school theme, Homecoming was the "Best Ever". The week started off great with the dress-up days, which included farmer day, stuffed animal day, twin day, blue and white day, and best dressed day. The class competitions were close and dedication was in evidence. The seniors were victorious with first places for their float and hall decorating, while the juniors took first in window decoration. The marching band and Phi-Dels spent many hours preparing an entertaining halftime show. The assembly brought a lot of spirit to the school which spurred the football team on to a 36-7 win over Bear Lake. The win proved to be an additional bonus by returning the wagon wheel to Preston after a three year stay in Bear Lake. Finishing out the activities of the week, the homecoming dance, added a touch of elegance.

FOR VICTORY

1. The little kid in all of us came out on stuffed animal day. 2. Melanie Chadwick and Heidi Gilbert, our very own Bobby Twins. 3. The captains of the football team show their pride as they receive the wagon wheel. 4. Even our exchange students, Sari Saarenketo, Cecelia Norback and Lona Anderson, show their Blue Pride on Blue and White day. 5. The PHS Marching Band led the homecoming parade. 6. The junior window took first place. 7. Krissy Call helped keep the crowd psyched up. 8. With a lowered ceiling and the valley's supply of crepe paper, senior hall was awarded first place. 9. Mr. Johnson represented the faculty well in the homecoming parade.

11

1. The juniors got into the spirit of the bonfire. 2. Cody Hodges displays his Preston Pride. 3. Farmer Day brought out the sophistication in many students. 4. Tim Hyde and Becky Grover enjoyed the Homecoming Dance. 5. The snake dance drew a large crowd of participants. 6. The Phi-Dels and band presented an excellent halftime show. 7. The cheerleaders display a four tiered pyramid shortly before they were outlawed. 8. The victory made the cold more bearable for the crowd. 9. Travis Meacham and the rest of the team got off to a fast start and never looked back. 10. When it comes to VW's, the sophomores really know how to "stuff it". 11. Greg Chandler and Heather Christensen sang the theme song "Next Time I Fall in Love".

CLOSE ENCOUNTERS

This year's Powder Puff game sponsored by the War Cry continued some of the old traditions and started some new. It was played the week before Homecoming week because of the weather, but the turnout was, as usual, large and boisterous. The half time entertainment was performed by the Phi-Males doing their interpretation of Janet Jackson's "Nasty Boys". The traditional intensity of the game was evidenced by the numerous injuries during both practices and the game.

The actual game started out to look like a senior blowout. The seniors scored twice in the second quarter on a run around the left end by Jackie Burbank, who also scored the one point conversion, and on a Jackie Burbank to Dalina Heath pass, resulting in a 13-0 halftime score. But the juniors bounced back in the second half with three unanswered touchdowns, a statue of liberty play by Rachel Mitchell, an 80 yard pass from Jennifer Webb to Ann Wright, and a 50 yard Julie Golightly to Becky Grover pass. All three conversions failed resulting in a 18-13 junior lead. The seniors reversed the momentum as Michelle Prochnow scored on a 46 yard quarterback keeper. The conversion failed leaving the score 19-18 for the seniors. But the one point held up as the seniors were able to hold off the juniors until time ran out.

The win was especially satisfying for the seniors as this was the first time in ten years that a class has won both their junior and senior years. Senior Carla Erickson said, "It was a goal accomplished." Most agreed that good sportsmanship was displayed by both teams, making the game enjoyable for participants and spectators alike.

1. Jeri Griffeth, with lead blocker Jackie Burbank, gains big yardage for the seniors. 2. A smiling victorious senior team. 3. What the senior cheerleaders lack in charm they also lack in beauty. 4. The notorious officials included Mr. Kincaid, Mr. Filimoehala, Mr. Wilde, Miss Bingham, and Mrs. Moser. 5. For the second year in a row Robyn Haworth amazed everyone with her blazing speed. 6. The junior team with their game faces on. 7. The junior cheerleaders give a new meaning to the word dainty. 8. Rachel Mitchell with the eye of the tiger.

FLOWERS FOR ALGERNON

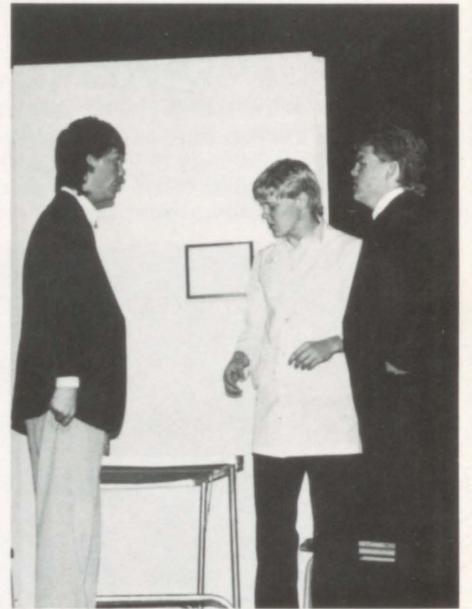

This year, for a change of pace, the drama club put on a serious play opposed to the traditional comedies. As junior Kim Gleason commented, "It was a nice break from the humorous chain." Despite the serious nature of the play, it was well recieved by all but a few of the less mature underclassman. A large cast of characters gave many students a chance to participate and show off their talent. Director Mr. Derricott was well pleased with the casting selection commenting that some performed "Above my expectations." The many scene changes required in this play were well handled keeping the action flowing smoothly. When asked if this was really his last play, Mr. Derricott took the fifth amendment. Tune in to next year's Quiver to find out.

A CHRISTMAS STORY

'Twas the week before Christmas
At old PHS
Every student worked busily
Doing their best.

The seniors were cramming
The days were but few
'Til all research papers
would be overdue.

Outside snow was scarce
And all skiers were mourning
What? No snow for vacation?
How terribly boring!

But the tree was outstanding
The assembly just right
making Christmas this year
Totally out of sight!

1. The Phi-Dels show off their precision with the "March of the Tin Soldiers". 2. Mrs. Kissinger's class took first place in the door decorating contest. 3. Mr. Koch and Mr. Derriocott astonished everyone with their portrayal of "lords a leaping". 4. The executive council's Christmas tree helped keep the Christmas spirit high.

IT'S A MAD, MAD WORLD

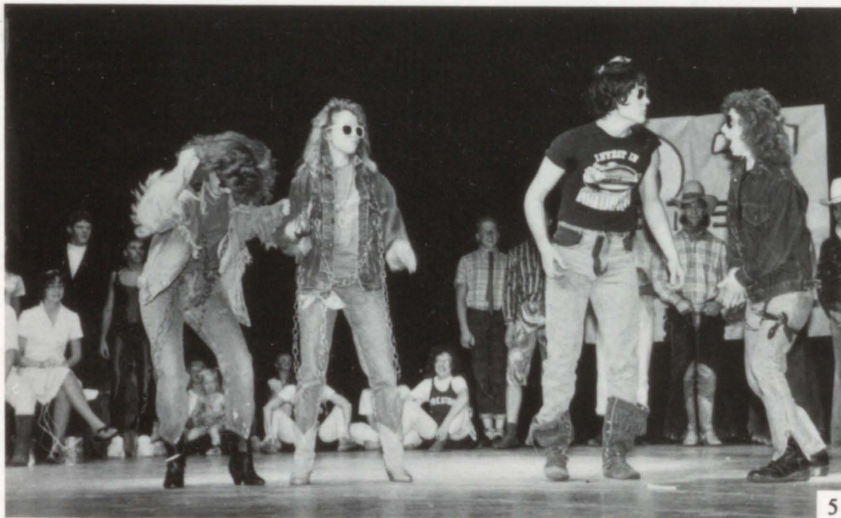

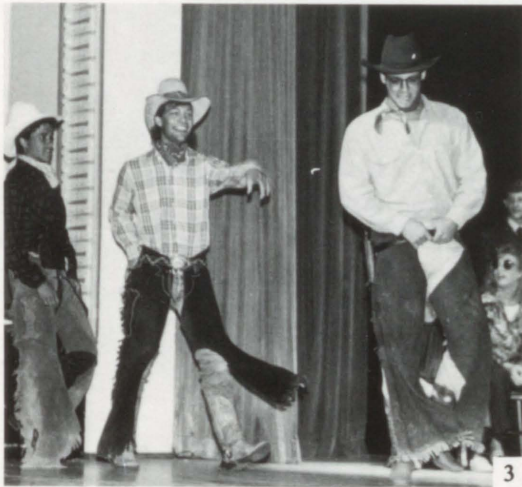

The juniors contributed their many talents in the junior assembly; singing, dancing, and acting to name just a few. Mrs. Kissinger commented, "It was the best junior assembly since I have been here." In addition to the juniors' performances, the Unity Ball royalty was announced and a slide show was presented.

1. The PHS quintet of Brad Ransom, Tim Rawlings, Jason Rich, Greg Chandler, and Troy Hobbs, performed their version of "Twist and Shout" to an enthusiastic student body. 2. The junior cheerleaders and Phi-Dels combined forces to create a routine complete with a heart. 3. A typical faculty meeting was reenacted by some of the junior students. 4. Jamie Gilbert, Hollie Schvaneveldt, and Kim Gleason performed a revised version of "Vanities." 5. Randon Hansen and Jerry Olson ended the assembly by asking, "Now wasn't that fun?"

BACK TO

The class of 1987 presented a really good assembly. Everyone could tell that they had spent many hours of rehearsal and planning to make it really good. The slide show was really good. You might even say it was the "Best Ever." Along with the seriousness of saying good bye and lighting their candles, the seniors left PHS with fond and humorous memories. This was really good. Chris Abrams and Trever Sherman were the emcees and many others joined in to make a really good assembly. Although it will be hard for them to leave, they will always remember their last really good time together.

THE FUTURE

1. On behalf of Bartles & Jaymes, Tracy Moser, and Terry Larson would like to "thank you for your support." 2. Trever (Mr. Mom) Sherman, and all his future "Little Tanks." 3. Trent Stokes, Russell Sorenson, and Matt Bowler "Wanna be Cowboys." 4. Dancing to "Louie Louie," the Senior guys celebrate what life's like out of high school. 5. Kellie Swainston, Katie Porter, Greg Chandler, and Wendy Golightly use their scholarship money to buy Harley-Davidsons. 6. The senior a capella choir members added a touch of class. 7. Nicky Bradford, Christine Swainston, and Gloriann Smith — in a "brief" skit about Inspector 12. 8. Heidi Geddes and Travis Meacham participate in the traditional candle-lighting ceremony. 9. Leon Taylor and LeVon Cordingley are preparing to make "Rambo, Part 3." 10. After the class of '87, Mr. Koch needed to be cared for by his son Stephen Koch. 11. Mike "Jane Fonda" Reed.

11

THAT'S

This year's assemblies were greatly varied with everything from pep assemblies to opera to Poe. Assemblies were a high point which all students looked forward to. Docia Larsen said "Assemblies this year were exceptional!" National School Assemblies brought a bit of culture with readings from Edgar Allan Poe and opera singing. Also, the popular pep assemblies continued to promote school spirit with a wide array of imaginative ideas for skits and class competitions. Overall, the assemblies provided a break in the regular routine.

1. Students were astonished by an unusual rendition of Edgar Allen Poe's, The Tell-Tale Heart. 2. Kelly Phippen, Matt Cattani and Matt Bowler all want the "big money" while playing Wheel of Fortune. 3. The 1987 Cheerleaders kept the tradition alive with exciting pep assemblies. 4. Greg Chandler and the student body officers start the year off great with the welcoming assembly. 5. Coach Kissinger told Brady Mather and Tyler Castleton that his half-a-mustache celebrated the girl's Cross-Country team becoming district champs. 6. Many of the boys' answers on the Newly Wed Game got them in trouble with their girlfriends. 7. Jeanne Miles received free opera lesson courtesy of National School Assemblies. 8. "Oh-O Spagettio's" was Tony Rawlings battle cry during the eating contest.

The elections for the 1987-88 school year were an exciting part of the school year. The primary elections had many great skits. Then the candidates had to suffer through being dragged through manure for initiation. Hobb's Hillbillies, under the direction of Troy Hobbs, and Gleason's Gangsters, with Kim Gleason in charge, spent many long hours making their campaigns successful. Posters and pickets had to be made which added to the growing enthusiasm of the final elections. Even without candy being past out everyone was all charged up about who was going to be the new executive council for 1988. All candidates contributed to make this election the "Best Ever."

PRESIDENT'S MEN

1. Gleason's Gangsters found a really hot political issue in their Star Trek IV take off. 2. David Jones became a walking billboard. 3. Trent Stokes went on record, before newsmen Tom Waddoups and Darren Bodily, in support of Chad Cole. 4. Hobbs' Hillbillies tried to get spirits soaring with mountain music. 5. Crocodile Billee (Billy Rawlings) showed up in support of David Roberts who ran for Budget Committee. 6. Curtis Hendricks and Cody Hyde show the entire student body how it's really done! 7. Hobb's Hillbillies had a down to Earth theme. 8. Santa Claus (alias Brady Mather) even showed for the campaigns! 9. Brad Foster and Travis Kunz cast their votes in a good voter turn out.

KISS ME KATE

Kiss Me Kate, an interesting and humorous look at a Broadway Production of Shakespeare's Taming of the Shrew, was this year's musical at P.H.S. First year director Mary Heers found the students easy to work with and commented "There is incredible musical talent at P.H.S." The production received rave reviews and was attended by large audiences. The whole school got behind the play, Mr. Montague helped with the music and Mr. Johnson and his art classes helped with the scenery.

Once upon a time, Chris Abrams and Jerry Olson were summoned to Mr. Koch's office for an urgent meeting. As soon as they sat down, Mr. Koch stood up and demanded, "Somewhere Out There is the makings of a marvelous Unity Week!" Little did he know what a success it would be. Careful planning went into each day. On Monday, students came dressed in their favorite college shirts. Tuesday's Cowboy and Indian day was definitely a rerun of Gun Smoke. Wednesday was "past" day, interpreted as everything from flower children to prehistoric cavemen. Thursday brought (or should we say bought) in all the slaves, with bids running high at the slave auction to purchase the finest slaves. On the last day of the week PHS was invaded by Freshmen, it surely had to be the Revenge of the Nerds. Nonetheless, the day ended with a great performance from the class of '88, in the Jr. Assembly. Last but not least, came the Unity Ball itself with a night of romance.

Later, Mr. Koch stated with a contented look on his face, "This year's Unity Week sure was unique."

SPRING

1. PHS students played cowboys and Indians on Tuesday during Unity Week. 2. BYU and USU received the biggest turnout from the students on College Day. 3. Russell Sorenson drives a hard bargain in the bidding for Heather Webb at the slave auction.

FEVER

4. You might have seen some of these people from past day in your history books. 5. Greg Chandler and Mrs. Moser find out that Wes Harris can really be a slave driver. 6. Freshman Day brings out the deep down nerd in everybody. 7. Former freshmen, Christine Swainston and Nickie Bradfrod, show this year's freshmen what it was like.

NO SMALL AFFAIR

The Unity Ball, this year, had a lot of class. For the first time it was held in the Skyroom at Utah State. It had its advantages, but Bryan Derricott said "It was too crowded and he would have preferred it was in Preston." Students also had an opportunity to eat at USU, which some took advantage of. The music by Mirage, a band from Logan, was excellent. This year's senior Queen and King were Katherin Lewis and Steven Koch. Kim Edwards and Ryan Naegle represented the juniors. This year's Unity Ball was very well organized and enjoyed by everyone.

1. Queen Kathryn Lewis and King Stephen Koch show their grace while dancing the royalty waltz. 2. The dance floor was crowded most of the night due to the great turnout. 3. Jackie Johnson and Troy Hobbs sang this year's theme song, "Somewhere Out There." 4. Lezli Gamble and Brian Baxter take a break after dancing the night away. 5. Jackie Johnson and Terry Larson enjoy the buffet provided at the Sky Room before the dance started. 6. Matt Bowler and Stefani Larsen enjoyed a night of elegance. 7. Karla Golightly and Trent Stokes were among the couples who dazzled the crowd during the promenade. 8. Kim Gleason and Dirk Smith were all smiles while dancing to the music of the live band.

Award Winning

ORGANIZATIONS

MAKING THE GRADE

The National Honor Society, advised by Mr. Alfred Koch, is an elite group of students who not only distinguish themselves academically, but also in the areas of leadership, service and personal character. Membership affords graduates many advantages in job applications, scholarships and the likes. This year's president is Kathryn Lewis.

SPECIAL DELIVERY

The yearbook staff, with Mr. Lawre Buys as advisor, spent many hours, working into the middle of June, producing another quality yearbook. With Docia Larsen as editor, some new ideas and features were incorporated into this year's annual, making it unique from past books. See the rest of this book for the results.

Kneeling: Mr. Buys, Tom Waddoups, Jason Grover. Standing: Brady Mather, Marilyn Swann, Trevor Sherman, Docia Larsen, Dirk Smith.

1. Tom Waddoups and Jason Grover finally find the Disney Channel on the Quiver computer. 2. Mr. Buys, Docia Larsen, and Brady Mather were looking pretty "shiekh" at the summer work camp. 3. Dirk Smith, just hanging around. 4. All Trevor Sherman needs is his Pepsi, headphones, and hat to get his inspiration. 5. Marilyn Swann and Docia Larsen find that yearbook work is tiring.

NEVER ENDING STORY

Mrs. Alice Griffith's newspaper staff put in many long hours producing a quality newspaper and news bulletins. With Julie Hansen as editor, new innovative ideas were combined with some of the traditional features of past War Cry issues. The information in the April Fools issue was as accurate as the National Enquirer. And what newspaper would be complete without the comics? Freshman Fred kept the readers entertained with its whimsical view of life as an underclassman. In the final edition, the seniors wrote their traditional "last will and testaments," showing a lot more class than some of the past graduating classes.

Top Row: Charlotte Seaborn, Angie Peterson, Tammy Murray. Bottom Row: Kathy Young, Wendy Whitehead, Julie Hansen. Standing: Mrs. Alice Griffiths.

1. Julie Hansen was the editor of the War Cry this year. 2. Tammy Murray found the computer to be a big aid in preparing newspaper copy.

FOR YOUR

Front Row: Krissy Call, Gina Smith, Heidi Geddes. Second Row: Robyn Haworth, Kim Edwards, Kelly Phippen, Stacey Harris. Back Row: Leila Hale, Lezli Gamble, Camille Shelman Saxton, Karla Golightly.

1. The Cheerleaders urged the wrestlers on to victory. 2. Kelly Phippen, Krissy Call, Camille Shelman, Heidi Geddes, and Gina Smith discuss their strategy for the second half.

EYES ONLY

It would be hard to have an award-winning year without the cheerleaders. Under the direction of Mrs. Theodora Petterborg, they spent many hours perfecting routines that would rally and enhance the performance of not only the athletic groups, but also the various clubs. The cheerleaders themselves performed well placing among the top seven at the 1986 NCA Cheerleading Clinic.

3. The Cheerleaders brought spirit to the Homecoming Parade. 4. Despite cold weather, the cheerleaders cheered on! 5. They also got a chance to cheer in the Idaho State Minidome. 6. Camille Shelman and the other cheerleaders were an integral part of the pep assemblies. 7. Part way through the year, the Cheerleaders were restricted to pyramids no more than two persons high.

VOLUNTEERS

This year, for a change of pace, a new kind of pep club was formed. Calling themselves the Spirit Squad, it included any girls and, for the first time, any boys who desired to cheer the school to victory. The advisors of this, the largest club in the school, were Mrs. Kissinger and Mrs. Petterborg. Wearing Preston High paraphernalia, which they received in a "prop kit," the squad spurred PHS on to an award winning year.

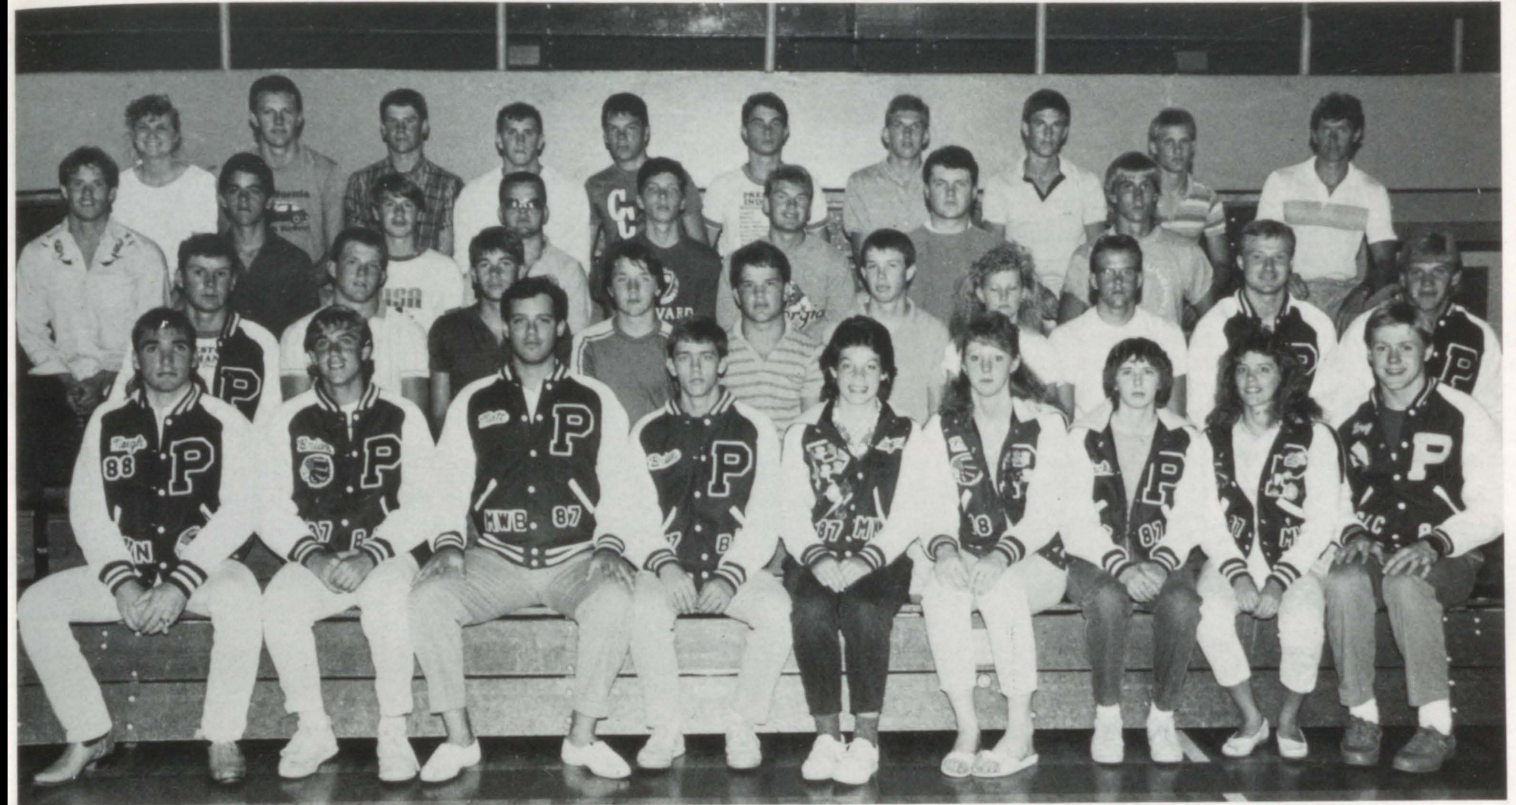

Front Row: Heather Adamson, Kim Gleason, Penny West, Kenny Kingsford, Brian Erickson, Bryan Derricott, Nancilee Jensen, Robert Poole, Trent Stoke Brain Johnson, Cory Smedley. Second Row: Nikie Greene, Wendy Golightly, Katie Porter, Amy Smedley, Camille Larson, Kathy Sparks, John Smith, Lau Sharp, Dalina Heath. Third Row: Kris Womack, Cathy Seamons, Natalie Talbot, Christy Gilbert, Kellie Swainston, Rochelle Kotter, Marilyn Swann, Lyd Olson, Dawnya Seamons. Fourth Row: Tim Rawlings, Cody Hodges, Dwayne Gebbs, Matt Grizzell, Heather Christensen, Docia Larsen, Margaret Kindre Julie Boyack, Melanie Rasmussen, Darcee Porter. Back Row: Jason Grover, Dirk Smith, Tom Waddoups, Mike Bosen, Shelly Hansen.

1. The spirit squad provided a lot of support at the Minidome, which resulted in the completion of an undefeated district championship football season.
2. Jason Rich ushered the PHS spirits into a heavenly year.

BLUES BROTHERS

The lettermen's club consists of both male and female athletes that have lettered in a sport. This makes it a quite prestigious club which any student would be proud to be in. This year's advisor was Coach Majerus and the president was senior, Travis Meacham.

FLASH

1. Kick lines are one of the most difficult group feats to master. 2. Dawn Jensen, this year's secretary, represented the group well both on and off the stage. 3. "PHS We've Got It" was one of the dances learned at summer camp.

4. Tonya Winn, Glorianne Smith, Docia Larsen, and Christine Swainston performed the dance entitled "50's" for the student body. 5. Marilyn Swann and Christine Swainston carry the seemingly twenty pound Phi-Del banner during the Homecoming parade. 6. The presentation of the colors at the beginning of the home sports events has become a tradition with the Phi-Dels. 7. Sixteen members were chosen to perform at Fifth District competition.

Starting with a new constitution, new requirements, new girls, a new attitude, new everything but the uniforms and the name, the Phi-Dels strove for excellence during the '86-'87 year. Under the direction of Sherri Thomas and Nelda Kissinger, the group performed at nearly twenty events which helped prepare for the fifth district competition held in Pocatello on April 4. The hard work paid off as the corps returned with two trophies: one for first place in the midi division (A-2 schools) and one for the most original overall (all competing schools).

MERRY

Although small in numbers, this year's band accomplished big things. Director Rodney Wayman was impressed by their "improvement throughout the year." With Kerry Griffin as president and Lori Bennett as drum major, the band kept busy the entire year. They performed in several parades, the Christmas Concert and Assembly, the Spring Concert, Solo and Ensemble Contests, USU Band Festival, District Music Festival (where they received an excellent rating), and numerous sport events, pep assemblies and send offs. Individual honors came to Mike Anderson, Kaylyn Gilbert and Lori Bennett, who were selected to the Academic All-American Band. Lori and Mike were also nominated to the McDonald's All-American Band.

MELODIES

MR. MOM

FHA, this year, was a very active club. Mrs. Claudia Erickson kept a large group of students (with an ever increasing number of boys) busy throughout the school year in a wide variety of activities. Mrs. Erickson commented that there is more to FHA than just "stitch and stew." Besides the monthly meeting/parties, the group was involved in table setting competition, state leadership conventions, working with small tots, a cultural Christmas party with the foreign exchange students, Pacific States Regional cluster meetings, and individual competitions. Brian Johnson took first in district in the job interview category. Carla Erickson, this year's club president was also elected district historian.

1. Shelly Hansen was one of three to place first in the table setting contest. 2. Parenting, one course involved with FHA, gives Deann Goodsell, Denise Trujillo and Tandy Roberts the opportunity to work with small children.

REAL GENIUS

How do you get students to show up at 7:00 A.M. every day of the week to study for a test that doesn't even affect their grade? You don't! They do it themselves. As Academic Honors Team advisor, Mr. Tina Stewart, commented, "They were so dedicated and consistent . . . I was really amazed! I think that's why they did so well." The self motivation paid off as they had good showings in all competitions including first place among District 5 and 6 schools. Besides, being an excellent preparation for college, there were even some monetary rewards. Curtis Meek earned a one year tuition and fees scholarship at the USU Olympiad.

1. Becky Grover, Jackie Mathews, and Rebecca Sharp take it easy after a session of testing. 2. The team thanked each other and the teachers that taught them by having a cook-out. 3. After a session of tests, Curtis Meek, Carl Sims, Dirk Smith, and Joe Beard still can muster-up a smile!?!

THE NUTCRACKERS

Front Row: Nicky Bradford, Liesa Orton, Christine Swainston, Nancilee Jensen, Heidi Geddes, Brian Johnson, Kellie Swainston, Robyn Haworth, Nickie Greene, Jan Palmer. Second Row: Julie Hansen, Kerry Griffin, Kaylyn Gilbert, Camille Chadwick, Shirley Jensen, Lezli Gamble, Leila Hale, Robert Poole, Russel Sorenson, Matt Grizzell, Rachele Butters, Rochelle Kotter, Carla Erickson, Cathy Lou Seamons. Third Row: Tom Waddoups, Jason Grover, Jackie Mathews, Lori Bennett, Tonya Winn, Penny West, Tandy Roberts, Lone Anderson, Cecilia Norback, Kim Gleason, Kathryn Lewis, Janeal Kindred, Bryan Derricott. Back Row: Aaron Porter, Dwayne Gebbs, Chad Cole, Jerry Olson, Brad Ransom, Tim Rawlings, Jason Rich, Randon Hansen, Mrs. Cattani.

This year's Renaissance Club turned out a big group of students interested in the fine arts. Bryan Derricott was the president assisted by an awesome Board of Directors and advised by Mrs. Carla Cattani. One of the highlights of their year was a marvelous trip to see the "Nutcracker" in Salt Lake City. In all, the Renaissance Club added a classy touch to this year.

A STAR IS BORN

The Speech and Drama Club, advised by Mr. Delmar Derricott, is an "A — #1" organization. Besides being involved in the school play and musical, the members performed in various district and state competitions. It was also their turn to host the district speech festival, which is no small task. Individual honors came to Jamie Gilbert, Kim Gleason, and Holly Schvaneveldt for their presentation of Vanities (see picture above). Kim Gleason also place in state in the Retold Story division and Bryan Derricott place in Dramatic Interpretive Reading. This year's president is Jamie Gilbert.

THE THREE AMIGOS

The Spanish Club was made up of mostly Spanish II students this year. They continued to improve their Spanish dialog in addition to learning something of other cultures. For their service project they cleared the halls in the school. This was under the direction of Supervisor Matthew Montague and club president Trevor Sherman. Trevor said "The Spanish Club was terrific, It was a Fiesta."

Rochelle Kotter tries to take a "siesta" in Spanish class.

STALAG 17

The German Club, with Aaron Porter as president, had many fun activities this year. They had a party at Riverdale Resort and many socials in Mr. Mitchell's room. When asked about the German Club, Dirk Smith said, "Es warein gutes Jahr." When school was out the German Club took a on a magnificent biennial tour of Germany. They visited Bonn, Germany for one month. This truly was the highlight of the year for the German Club.

The A Cappella Choir, directed by Mr. Matthew G. Montague, continued their quest for perfection. Although only performing about 15 times this year, compared to 20 times last year, the quality was excellent. Among their performances were a 2½ day choir camp, with Mr. Montague's father, Glenn, as guest conductor and a well received 3 day tour with performances in Blackfoot, Boise, the State Capitol Building, and Malad. At District Music Competition, the choir received a superior rating, the best given at the entire festival. Among the many compliments from judges, one commented "Gorgeous sound . . . Bravo!" The Mixed Choir and the Girls' Ensemble Singers also performed well, promising to continue the reputation of vocal music excellence at Preston High. This year's A Cappella Choir president is Russell Sorenson.

GREASE

Mr. George Wilcox's automotive department had another outstanding year, walking away with all three places in the opening and closing ceremonies at state competition. The first place team included: Jason Sharp, Dana Nielson, Shane Foster, Derek Reay, Terry Larson, Jeff Avery, Tracy Moser.

Another honor came to Derek Reay and Dana Nielson, who took first places in the state Trouble Shooting and in the written exam. They earned trips back East to national competition. This year's president is Jason Sharp.

Front Row: Dana Nielson, Jeff Avery, Billy Rawlings, Justin Roberts, Blake Rindlisbaker, Jeremy Stone, Randon Naegle, Jimmy Shepard. Second Row: Mr. George Wilcox, Jesse Sharp, Tracy Taggart, Phillip Allen, Jason Roper, Shane Hodges, Derek Reay, Brian Stanko, Jason Sharp. Back Row: Tony Rawlings, Tracy Moser, Terry Larson, Steve Randall, Joe Beard, Jeff Rawlings, Brad Larsen, Brandon Roberts, Shane Foster.

1. Vica's contribution to the Homecoming Parade. 2. Derek Reay gets some expert advice from Mr. Wilcox. 3. Steve Randall gives his car a bubble bath. 4. Jeff Avery isn't afraid of a little grease.

A BREED APART

FFA, advised by Mr. Lynn Hjorth, is a broad experience for its members. They are taught many aspects of the agricultural business including: mechanics, welding, dairy production, weed control, crops, horticulture, genetics and carpentry, to name a few. This year was a productive year for the club as they competed twice a month on the average. They placed first in district in the range plants and the crops and weeds categories. Also, at Black and White Days in Richmond, they came away with the dairy judging and all around titles. A special honor came to Spencer Larsen, as he was selected State Farmer. This year's president is Lane Schumann who was also district president.

1. Tom Sharp demonstrates gas welding. 2. Lance Geddes and Kory Petterborg and their livestock represented Preston well. 3. Lane Schumann and Tom Sharp represented Preston at the annual state leadership convention.

For the first time in quite a few years, Preston High had a Rodeo Club this year. Despite being a first year organization and having to put up with the sometimes questionable spring weather, the gang hung in there to produce a fine showing. Advisor Kwen Griffeth was "tickled to death" with the performances of all the kids and is very optimistic about the club's future as they gain more experience. Cody Hyde, Tony Rawlings and Nathan Ward qualified for the state rodeo competition in bulldogging, with a chance to qualify for nationals. This year's president is Billy Rawlings.

THE WILD BUNCH

1. Although he qualified for state in bulldogging, Nathan Ward promises to improve in other aspects and develop into all around competitor. 2. Jacque Johnson was voted Miss Congeniality in the queen contest and will also be first attendent in the upcoming Preston Famous Night Rodeo. 3. Despite a disappointing senior year, Jeri Griffith was awarded a rodeo scholarship to Idaho State University. 4. Wes Harris and the other bull riders must have some kind of a death wish! 5. Cody Hyde and Nathan Ward may also compete in the team roping competition at state. 6. Billy Rawlings thinks that rodeoing is a "bunch of bull!"

HOT DOG

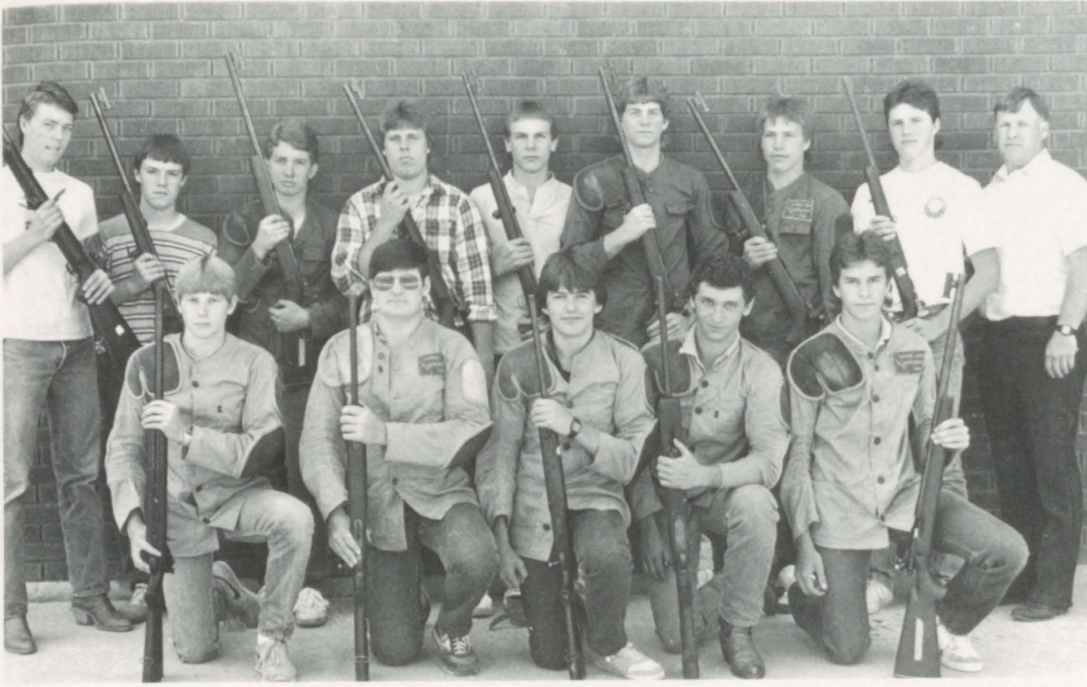

Alta ski resort would never be the same after Preston's very own ski club, headed by advisor Coach Corey Johnson and president Matt Cattani, hit their slopes. This year's ski trip, though few were able to go, was a big success and it carried on the proper tradition of the Preston ski club.

Troy Hobbs, Matt Cattani, Brandon Roberts, Christian Hark, Nikie Greene, Stacey Olsen, Pennie Cole, Nicky Bradford.

Kneeling: Mark Beckstead, David Bowler, Kevin Geddes, Blake Johnson, Shad Moser. Standing: David Priestley, Tracen Winward, Lance Geddes, Jed Smith, Blake Rindlisbaker, Wade Schvaneveldt, Bill Golightly, Shane Corbett, Mr. Biggs.

Mr. Larry Biggs had the rifle team in top form this year, placing well in all matches. They placed third in small bore competition in Idaho Falls. At Highland High School in Salt Lake City, they had three separate teams of four shooters each take the top three places in small bore 22's. The team of Blake Rindlisbaker, Jed Smith, Jason Sharp and Lance Geddes took first place in the state of Idaho in the air rifle division and earned a trip to West Point during the summer. This year's president, David Bowler, commented that there were "a lot of good shooters" and the team should remain strong because of the "good shooters coming up from the middle school."

History Club members discuss the philisophical significance of world events.

Another new club this year was the history club. Comprised mostly of Honors Government and Honors History students and advised by Mrs. Nelda Kissinger and Mr. Lynn Womack, the club had an eventful year. They participated in youth legislature and mock trials. They also held a luncheon with guest speaker, Dan Williams, who discussed the Vietnam War. Individual honor came to Kathryn Lewis, who was elected Secretary of State at youth legislature.

FRESHMAN FRED

Being a freshman is one of those things that either no one should have to suffer through or everyone should have to suffer through. It doesn't stop with freshman initiation, but continues the entire year. Everyone who has ever been a freshman can relate to the fact that IT'S A BUMMER FOR FRESHMEN WHEN:

- you have to apply your make-up after mom drops you off at school.
- your hands and feet are too big in proportion to the rest of your body.
- you go to the movies and the ticket taker asks if you would like a child (under twelve) ticket.
- you take your first history test and you can't remember the name of the first president of the United States.
- you take home every book in your locker except the one you need.
- you have to go to the office every other day to ask what your locker combination is.
- your mother sends your lunch in a He-Man lunch pail.
- you can never register for the classes you want because they are already full.

A REAL CRACK UP

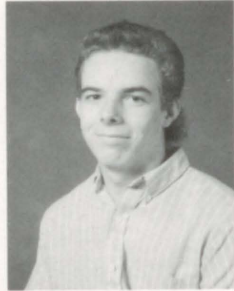

Almost as exciting as getting to go to high school, your freshman year means you are old enough to drive (legally). Of Course, being old enough and knowing how are two different things. That's why driver's training was invented. Throughout the year, Mr. Wilde, Mr. Baxter and even Mr. Majerus put their lives on the line, without getting extra hazard pay, to make the highways a safer place for all of us. Some would believe that the extra brake pedal installed on the passenger's side is just to satisfy some bureaucratic edict from OSHA. But the instructors have assured us that the brakes get plenty of use and have saved many a teacher's life.

LITTLE NELDA

Celece and Mrs. Kissinger typify a common situation for several students at PHS — a student having a parent as a teacher in the same school. It can be embarrassing when your mother makes you wear all her old high school clothes on dress up days. A parent for a teacher can keep a good eye on your "extracurricular activities" and make sure you are getting your homework done. Worst of all is the kidding you take from the other students and the nicknames you acquire. Of course there are some advantages. It does come in handy to have mom close by when you need some money, or to have your own personal chauffeur to school. And who else has access to the keys to the school? Best of all, as Mrs. Kissinger said, "It has brought us closer together."

DATING GAME

Most students really get into the dating scene during their sophomore year. Many learn the don'ts of dating the hard way. To help them, we have a few suggestions DON'T:

- pick your date's mother's prize roses before ringing the doorbell
- ask the football captain's girl to the homecoming game
- wear green socks with your purple tux or more than three plaids at the same time
- date out of your species
- date anyone with mustaches — especially if they're female
- date anyone 5 times your weight or 2 times your height
- forget to fill your tank or remove the manure spreader before you pick her up
- forget to check your fly
- hold anyone's hand from the West Side, you never know where it's been
- drool when you walk to the porch before the good night kiss

THEY'VE GOT GUTS

This year the class of '89 had their turn participating in the great sport of dissecting. Mr. Buys and Mr. Kincaid planned a fun filled year in their biology classes, so each student had plenty of opportunities to pick the guts out of such things as: worms, fish, clams, grasshoppers and frogs. Needless to say, many sophomores look forward to the momentous event. However, not all are that thrilled at the experience. But out of the kindness of their hearts, the teachers do provide plastic gloves for those who refuse to touch.

The comments ranged from "Wow, this is neat!" to "Oh, Yuck!" Yet they will always have fond memories of the sight, smell, and morbid emotions that came every time they walked into the science lab.

HOME AWAY FROM HOME

A lot can be told about a person from looking at their locker. Some students, like Rachel Mitchell, love to decorate the inside of their locker doors with pictures, notes, bumper stickers, post cards and other memorabilia. Some cram so much stuff in their 5.6 cubic foot lockers that it's an adventure every time they try to open or close them. In cleaning out their lockers at the end of the school year, they find that English theme that was due during the first term. Others add extra shelves to neatly organize all their texts and materials in alphabetical or chronological order. Still others have never used their lockers since the first week because they forgot their locker combinations and were too embarrassed to go to the office to ask. In the future, a whole new branch of psychoanalysis may be developed based on studies of school lockers.

MOVE OVER PAUL JAMES!

Chances are, if your radio is tuned to KACH 1340, you'll be listening to Brady Mather and Tyler Castleton giving the latest happenings and play by play action of PHS sports events.

Brady and Tyler started a career in broadcasting in the eighth grade by taping play by play action on simple cassette recorders. Then by replaying the game, they were able to develop their skills and learn many tricks of the trade.

Not long after that, they landed a job with KACH radio as DJ's. As freshmen, they were able to help with some actual broadcasts and by the time they were sophomores, they had taken full responsibility of "bringing the action to local radio listeners."

Brady is considering a career in communications and Tyler hopes to some day become the next Paul James. At any rate, they've come a long way from ordinary tape recorders!

ACT (ALL CRAZY TESTS)

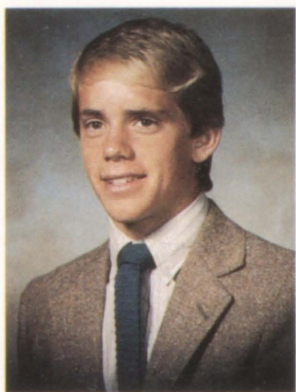

Oh, the dread of the junior year, when students get as many varieties of tests as Eddie Murphy gets fan mail! By popular vote, the ACT test is the most "looked forward" to. In this test, as in most, the grade earned depends entirely on how well a student has studied. The only difference is, studying for some may start as early as August for the scheduled test in April! This year, David Roberts received the highest score, a 30, of those who chose to take the test. In addition to the high cumulative score, he scored a perfect 36 on the math section.

1. The elections brought out the crazy in everyone. 2. Terry Ralphs reacts to a dirty joke. 3. Randon Hansen and Brian Baxter tried their "death bed repentance" routine on Santa the day before Christmas. 4. Mike Fellows and Nathan Ward found out that no amount of make-up and hair styling can disguise their true looks. 5. Curtis Hendricks, Derek Hinckley, Ryan Naegle, Matt Lucia, and Travis Meacham demonstrate how to enjoy the ball game and look cool at the same time. 6. The freshman class stumbled their way through the school song during initiation. 7. Clowning around is a serious operation for Natalie Dockstader. 8. Matt Cattani and Matt Lucia demonstrate the difference between upperclassmen and underclassmen. 9. The linemen show off their intellectual side during a pep assembly interview.

THE GREAT WALL OF PRESTON

To boost the spirit for the 1986 football season, the offensive line tried something that had never been tried at PHS before. With the help of Wayne Bell and the Preston Citizen printing press, Greg Chandler, Trever Sherman, David Jones, Tim Hyde, and Matt Bowler made a poster called the Great Wall of Preston. Selling the posters at games and school functions, the linemen came out a little ahead and gave the money to help pay off the school debt. Quoting Trever Sherman, "It was a fun experience that added to the excitement of the football season and none of us will forget it."

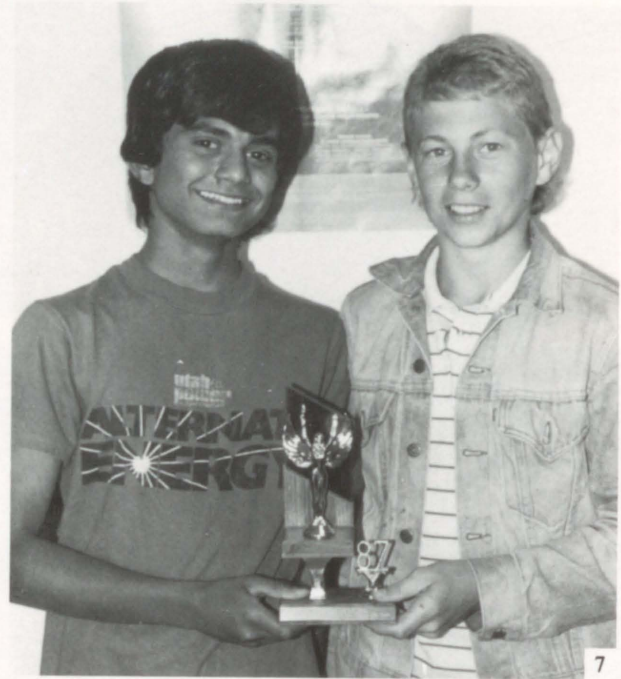

1. It took a lot of arm twisting to get Trisa Hobbs, Rick Fellows, Sid Biggs, Lanae Law and Becky Jones to pose for a picture. 2. Mike Bosen is about to get a "pit" in his stomach. 3. If Mary Jean Newbold had known we were going to take her picture, she would have dressed up a little. 4. Brian Christensen, — future world terrorist. 5. Trever Sherman finds Tom Waddoups to be a better "dumbell" than he could find in the weight room. 6. Some of the football players went a step past mohawks and added war paint. 7. Ajeet Nath and Mike Cole took second place in the Utah Power and Light Alternative Energy Contest and won $50. 8. Life is really exciting in P.E. on rainy days. 9. Tony Rawlings, the next Arnold Swartzeneger. 10. Matt Grizzell, Kent Derricott, Joe Beard and Cody Hyde practice for the day when the Dallas Cowboy Cheerleaders accept males. 11. Too bad these students didn't spend as much time on homework as they did on signing autographs.

T.P. TRIALS

After the Girls' Choice Dance, three couples were going to have a "little fun." Marilyn Swann had borrowed her brother's car and had its back seat well stocked with toilet paper. But the joke back fired as her brother got into the car while they were in the dance and then elegantly decorated its exterior. It's bad enough to be toilet papered, but the ultimate insult is to have it done with your own T.P.!

THE LAST OF THE MOHICANS

When we say Indians, we mean Indians, right down to our mohawks. The boys started this crazy fad out during football season to increase school spirit. Not to be out-done, the senior girls, playing powder puff, came up with their own version of the mohawk. Along with increasing school spirit, it provided a fun change from tradition.

1. Leon Taylor tries the "osmosis" method of studying. 2. Matt Cattani — Mr. Preppy. 3. The seniors clean out their lockers for the last time. 4. Oh, What a feeling! Docia Larsen and Bryan Erickson must have just bought a Toyota. 5. James Pitcher, Mike Hyde and Chad Pope demonstrate team roping in the Little Theatre. 6. Mrs. Stewart resorts to witchcraft to get Shawn Gordon (or is that Shane?) to do his English. 7. Trever Sherman and Jim Shepard enjoy the game from the West Coast of the gym. 8. Bryan Whitehead teaches Chad Priestley about oral hygiene. 9. When it comes to Geometry and boys, Heidi Gilbert, Stacey Olsen and Rachele Buttars know all the angles.

One of the highlights of Mrs. Cattani's senior English classes (with the exception of the research paper) is the staging of Shakespeare's dark and mysterious McBeth. This famous play has a part for everyone. There are witches, heroes, villians, a woman gone mad, to name a few. What better way to bring English literature to life?

SPORTS

RUNNING BRAVE

The cross-country program at PHS is increasing in popularity. This year, Coach Steve Kissinger recruited about thirty runners with the will to win, resulting in a very strong team. Through this fierce competitive spirit the girls took 1st and the boys took 2nd at the district competition. Both teams went on to have good showings at state.

Front Row: Coach Steve Kissinger, Leslie Titensor, Celece Kissinger, Raylene Henrie, Michelle Burbank, Kaylyn Gilbert, Shelly Gebbs, Rebecca Sharp, Coach Bruce Hodges. Back Row: Jonathan Nelson, Tim Rawlings, Chris Hark, Kris Womack, Dwayne Gebbs, Brian Erickson, Curtis Meek, Matt Grizzell, Matt Swann, Joe Baird, Heather Webb.

1. Stretching out can be just as important as the actual running of the race. 2. The large starting group is soon narrowed down to the elite. 3. German exchange student Christian Hark finishes strongly. 4. Surprisingly it is a close race. 5. The girls get off to an excellent start.

ON THE RIGHT

Coach Corey Johnson's thin clads ran, jumped, threw and leaped their hearts out this season, enroute to a great showing at each meet. Even though track is classified as an individual sport, everyone worked for the same goal. They made everyone proud at district and sent nine members: Tony Rawlings, Mike Hyde, Tim Rawlings, Joe Beard, Jon Nelson, Margret Knapp, Nicole Mather, Wynette Pace, and Becky Grover to the state meet.

Everyone felt good about their performance and as Dwayne Gebbs put it, "Track is for everyone, they might not be the best at any one event, but if they are willing to put forth the effort they will definitely have fun."

1. Brad Ransom and Mike Hyde show explosive power coming out of the blocks. 2. Larin Cordingley shows good form when throwing the discus. 3. Brad Ransom and Chris Abrams worked hard to develop a smooth relay exchange. 4. Tony Rawlings benefits from the new pole vaulting pit. 5. Wynette Pace qualified for the state meet as a freshman. 6. Margret Knapp set a new school record of 17'1" and a district record of 17' in the long jump. 7. Tim Rawlings and Rick Prestley set the pace in the distant races. 8. Mary Jean Newbold has a fantastic Fosbury Flop.

TAKE DOWN

This year's great school spirit carried over into wrestling, with a strong showing at all of the tournaments. The team fielded two wrestlers in the state tournament: Kris Womack and Duane Anderson. Duane went on to take first at state in the 98 pound weight division. Although the team will be losing a few seniors, a strong team will be back next year for Coach Steve Kissinger. Randon Hansen said, "I think this year showed some of the potential and the team will get even better with time."

1. Randon Hansen, as a junior, was the most improved wrestler on the squad and shows great promise for next year. 2. Duane Anderson, after placing second at district, went on to capture the state title. 3. The refs raised freshman Dalin Anderson's hand 27 times this year (J.V. wins included). 4. Larin Cordingley is another underclassman that will make for a strong squad in future years. 5. Both Trent Stokes and 6. Raul Soto got off to strong starts, only to have disappointing senior years due to being sidelined with injuries.

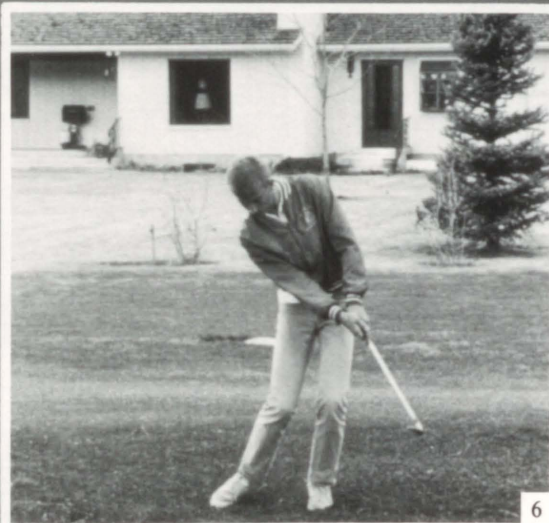

CADDY SHACK

A good turn out produced a golf team that was very competitive this year. This resulted in a much stronger team. They went to nine tournaments and placed second in all of the conference matches except for a first place finish at Bear Lake. The team of Matt Grizzell, Stephen Koch, Todd Woodward, Trent Stokes and Alan Bell went to district play, placing third, which qualified them to go to state. At state, the competition was very tough, but the team had a great showing, placing ninth. While this was Coach Wayne Brown's last season, he thought this was a very dedicated team and everyone did their part to make this season successful and enjoyable.

1. Senior Trent Stokes played an outstanding round at District. 2. Stephen Koch, the only left hander on the team, worked hard perfecting the finer parts of his game. 3. Jason Grover showed improvement towards the end of the season and promises to add to next year's team. 4. Cody Gamble was one of the best JV golfers. 5. Senior Matt Bowler added character to the team. 6. Alan Bell was the long driver on the team, placing 3rd in Highland long drive contest. 7. David Koch hopes to contribute to the varsity team next season.

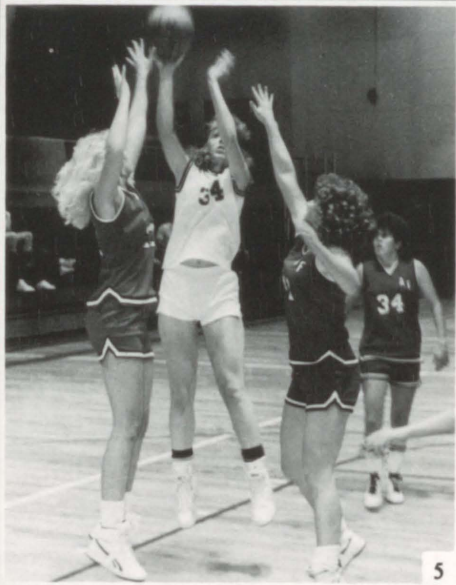

ONE ON ONE

The end of an era! This year marked the first time the Preston girl's basketball has ever lost to a fifth district team and failed to win the district trophy. This shows the upsurge in girl's athletics throughout the district, and will bring about more fierce competition to the lady Indians, resulting in better preparation for state competition. The team, under Coach Jean Paskins, fought back to a strong finish at district. They were victorious in their first two games, but then lost to district rival A.F. This forced them into a must win situation against Snake River. Michelle Prochnow commented about the game, "We pulled together as a team and won" a thrilling one point game in overtime. This qualified them for state where they took sixth, finishing with a 19-9 record.

AGAINST ALL ODDS

The boys' varsity basketball team, under first year Coach Dave Filimoehala, worked hard, usually spending two to three hours a day, trying to make the team as good as possible. One good attribute of this team was that they worked as a team. As David Roberts, junior forward, said "We played together as a team instead of five individuals." After losing many close games, the team went to district play and ended up winning the first two games, only to come up short on a trip to state. They ended the season with an 8-16 record. Coach Filimoehala felt very optimistic about the team and he felt the team showed what they were made of at the district tournament.

The volleyball team rallied behind first year coach Matthew Montague to place second at state. After being upset in the first round of the state tournament by Lakeland, they fought back through the consolation bracket to meet St. Maries in the championship match. They finished the season with a 22-6 record and another district championship. Senior and first team all state player, Margret Knapp commented that they "played well as a team and were very unified. Lola Talbot was also named first team all-state, while Kristy Chatterly was selected second team all-state.

ALL THE RIGHT MOVES

The season of 1986 brought Preston's football team, under third year Coach Marv Majerus, back to its traditional winning ways. The school spirit soared with an undefeated district record. The newly united football team claimed the title of "District Champs." As senior Trent Stokes said, concerning their success, "We played as a team," "we didn't really feel like we were split into seniors, juniors, or sophomores." Mike Hyde, junior, added, "The whole school supported us this year, not just a few people." Not only did the team as a whole achieve greatness, there were many individual accomplishments as well. This year Preston produced eight All District first team players. They included Mike Hyde, Tony Rawlings, Chris Abrams, Travis Meacham, Trevor Sherman, Greg Chandler, Brandon Roberts, and Trent Stokes. On the state level, there were two first team All State players, Mike Hyde and Tony Rawlings. Chris Abrams was selected to the second team all state squad.

In the state tournament, Preston lost a hard fought battle to eventual state champs, Jerome, 14-0, resulting in a 7-3, overall record for the season.

1. Travis Meacham and David Jones came out fired up for the second half of Homecoming. 2. Travis Meacham scores his powerful touchdown at the Mini Dome. 3. Tony Rawlings rushed for 338 yards which was a big part of the Preston running game. 4. Travis Meacham passed for 762 yards, 7 touchdowns, and gained all conference honors. 5. Mike Hyde averaged a whopping 7.3 yards per carry and recieved All State honors. 6. The offensive line gained the nickname "The Great Wall of Preston."

BLUE THUNDER

This year's J.V. football team had a very good season ending with a 4-3 record. As player Brad Foster said, "It was a very fun year." There was some great talent on the team and under the supervision of coaches Rich Kincaid, King Smith, they matured greatly. This should add tremendously to next year's varsity team.

1. The defense held Snake River to a single, late fourth quarter touchdown. 2. James Bedingfield kept the pressure on opposing quarterbacks. 3. Brent Knapp gained valuable quarterbacking experience that should pay off in his varsity years. 4. Sid Biggs was a big part of the team's ground attack.

TRUE GRIT

The Freshman football team, under the direction of coach Jon Hyde, continued the school's winning tradition while capturing a perfect 5-0 record. The young team dominated its opponents, winning three out of five games by 20 or more points and outgaining their opponents on the ground by four yards per carry. With the overall domination demonstrated, this young team should add greatly to the future of Preston High's athletics.

A SHINING SEASON

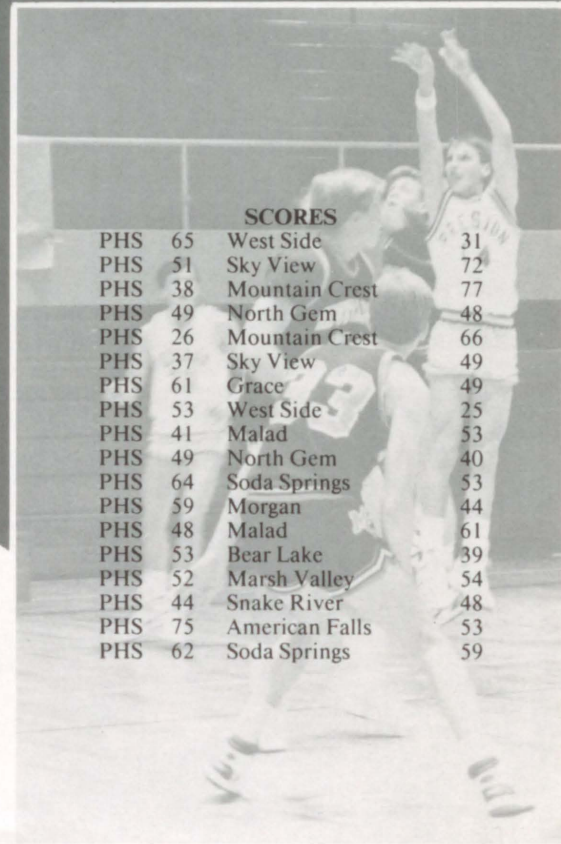

The Junior Varsity boys' basketball team blended youthful enthusiasm with improving skills, dazzling crowds on their way to a winning 13-9 season. Coach Scott Griffeth said that "they all have good experience and should add greatly to the varsity program next season." This is due, in part, to his watchful supervision which helped them to a successful season.

Basketball is a sport of skill and hard work. This year's freshman basketball team displayed these qualities in their 15-5 season. Coach Larry Biggs commented that over the season they improved immensely but their best attribute was their defensive skills. When asked what he liked most about this team he replied, "They was a team," they worked together. To motivate his team Coach Biggs said, "If you don't believe in yourself, who will believe in you?" His tactics must have paid off, because the team had a great year!

FAST BREAK

The girls' junior varsity basketball team, this year, was very unified. Coach Joy Talbot said, "It takes the team to win; we won as a team, we lost as a team." She also remarked that the funnest time of the season was when, "We would work hard during the week and then have it rewarded with a win." The unity and hard work paid off in a 15-6 record (including a "freshmen only" win over West Side).

The J.V. Volleyball team, under Coach DeAnn Casperson, produced another fine winning season. Their final win-loss record was 17-3, with all three losses going to three games to decide the match. The girls gained valuable playing experience and learned to handle pressure, as four of their wins also went to three games. This talent, added to the returning varsity players, should put a smile on Coach Montague's face.

As always, graduation night was filled with mixed emotions. Yet the anticipations were high. The traditional ceremony went smoothly, with a good blend of advice, music, respect, formality, and a touch of nostalgia.

After the commencement exercises, the graduates stood in for a hugging session, while relatives and friends came to offer their congratulations. For many, this was their last time together, and an ending to a traditional lifestyle. However, for most it's just the beginning of new and exciting life in the cold cruel world.

1. Kellie Swainston and Margret Knapp share a few tears after the ceremony. 2. The final reward for the class of '87. 3. The class of '87 has waited 12 long years to finally turn their tassels.

4. The underclass band members provide the "Pomp and Circumstance." 5. Candyce Howells Miller, alumunus 1971, is the first woman to be invited to deliver the graduation speech at a Preston High commencement ceremony. 6. Wendy Golightly was one out of 108 graduates who received their diplomas. 7. Allyson Bodily enjoys her parents' company at the reception. 8. The A capella Choir had many graduates participate in their program.

HEAD OF THE CLASS

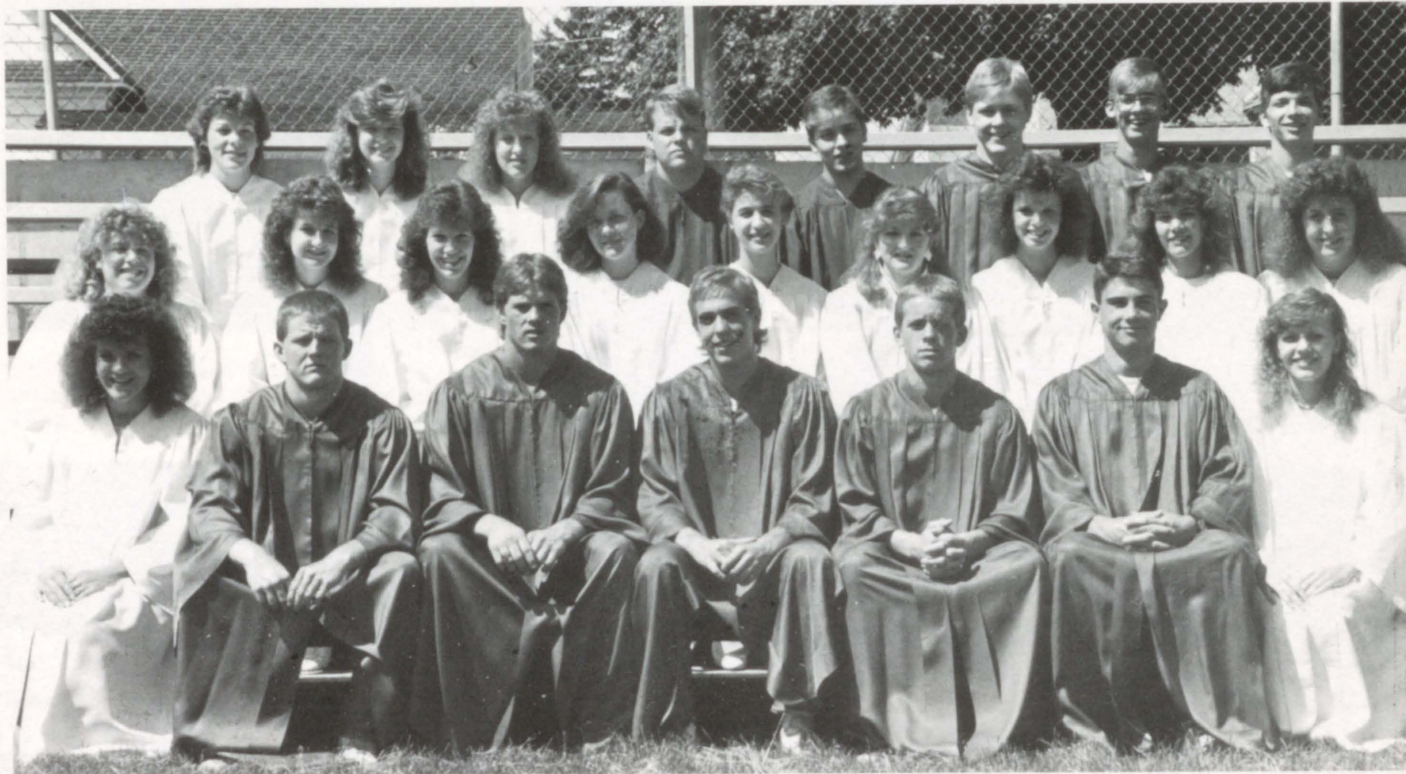

Some graduates from the class of '87 received special recognition at graduation time — the Valedictorian and Salutatorian for academic superiority; the Outstanding Male and Female Students, selected by the faculty, for their overall character; and the Arrowhead Award recipients for participation in extracurricular activities during their four years in high school.

Salutatorian — Greg Chandler, Valedictorian — Dwayne Gebbs

Outstanding Male Student — Greg Chandler, Outstanding Female Student — Kathryn Lewis
